FOUND!

David Gordon Anderson, 3½, who wandered from his Metchosin home Wednesday morning and was the object of a widespread search last night and today, was found this afternoon, curled up under a tree, asleep. The little lad was hungry and cold but otherwise apparently unharmed.

Big Three Meet Called in June

Bermuda Talks May Be Followed By Russian Parley; Mayer Topples

WASHINGTON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill, President Eisenhower and the successor to Premier Mayer of France will meet in Bermuda in June to discuss world problems, it was announced today.

In Paris, Mayer said the Big Three conference would discuss the feasibility of a later conference at which Russia would be represented.

The meeting will be held at the invitation of President Eisenhower. Churchill suggested Bermuda as the meeting place.

In London, Reuters reported the date would be June 17. However, the Washington White House announcement did not mention any specific date. It said merely that the meeting would be held the latter part of June.

Announcement of the agreement to hold the Bermuda meeting was made at about the same time in London, Washington and Paris.

Churchill told the House of Commons that arrangements are being made for the meeting to be held shortly after June 16 although the exact date had not yet been settled.

Churchill said he hoped the meeting would enable the Big Three to "take a definite step forward to a meeting of far graver import."

This was presumably a reference to a possible Big Four conference with Premier Malenkov of Russia attending.

(Meanwhile, in Paris, Premier Mayer, premier of the right-wing French government, was overthrown tonight by the National Assembly, leaving France temporarily without a government. Mayer's government lost a confidence vote on his controversial economy budget and tax program. A dramatic last-minute announcement of the planned Big Three meeting and a possible "far graver" meeting of the three western leaders with Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov failed to stave off defeat.)

Socreds Break BCHIS Laws, Says Webster

By GORDON FORBES, Times Political Reporter

NANAIMO—CCF Leader Arnold Webster Wednesday night accused B.C.'s Social Credit government of "showing contempt for the rule of law" in making recent changes in hospital insurance.

In a two-hour address, frequently interrupted by applause, the Socialist leader accused the Socreds of:

1. Breaking the law by changing the "true intent" of the Hospital Insurance Act without consulting the Legislature;

2. Ignoring the law by not enforcing compulsory premium payment and thereby forcing the good citizen to "subsidize the chiselers who do not pay."

Mr. Webster teed off on the Socreds' new hospital insurance plan, which is effective July 1, at a meeting in the Odd Fellows' Hall attended by more than 200 persons. Local CCF-ers were cheered because the crowd equalled the one drawn by Premier Bennett the night before.

Mr. Webster saved his most forceful criticism for the Socreds' hospital insurance proposal which wipes out all premium arrears.

He was especially angered at the Socreds for making the changes without approval of the Legislature. Only the Legislature, he said, can change the basic principles of an act. The cabinet had no right to do it.

"To any supporter of British tradition of government it is distressing that the government has done by administrative act what it knew it could not do in the Legislature."

Metchosin Boy Found Alive After Huge 24-Hour Search

Civilians and Servicemen Took Part in United Cause

Close to 500 persons from all walks of life devoted their time today to search for the Anderson child. Search spread out from little lad's home on Wishart Road. Cars were parked bumper-to-bumper down country road. Boy was discovered by Gunner Charles

Shiro, of Work Point, one of a force of army volunteer searchers. There were a number of sailors in the hunt as well. (All pictures of search by Times cameraman Bill Halkett.)

DESPERATE HUNT

Mayor, MLA, Neighbors All Lend Aid

Frank Mitchell, Esquimalt MLA, was one of the all-night searchers in the desperate hunt for three-and-a-half-year-old David Anderson.

"I arrived home after a political meeting," he said, "and my wife simply handed me some old clothes and told me to get going."

At 11 a.m. Mr. Mitchell was still going.

Mayor Claude Harrison arrived at the search scene shortly after 10 a.m.

He was dressed in a business suit on arrival—but soon had changed into rubber boots, blue jeans and wind-breaker, and joined the other searchers.

While men hunted through the woods, their women folk kept the home fires burning.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Steadman, next door neighbors, opened their home to the searchers and kept coffee boiling all night long.

She was assisted through the night by Mrs. B. Patzack, Mrs. P. Anderson and Mrs. M. Arthur.

This morning they were joined by a working crew of seven other neighborhood wives.

Full control of the search was turned over by RCMP to the South Vancouver Island Rangers, in charge of Arthur Hall. Many of the searchers are veterans of many "man-hunts" in similar country.

The Legion of Frontiersmen joined the search. The group serves the CD organization as auxiliary police, is composed of city business men.

Search Took Night and Day

Fatigued but greatly relieved were these four volunteer searchers who spent all night Wednesday and all of this morning combing bushlands around Anderson home. Left to right, are Arthur Gillan, Gorge Road; Frank Mitchell, CCF candidate in Esquimalt; Thomas Flewin and Ray Heald, both of Victoria Road.

LIBERALS WILL WIN—CAMPNEY

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Ralph Campney, Solicitor-General, told a Liberal rally here Wednesday night that the Social Credit party would disappear from the west coast political scene after the June 9 B.C. election.

"You'll never hear of the Social Crediters in B.C. again after they lose this election," he predicted. He told the audience that the "Liberals have rebounded from their setback (in the 1952 election) with amazing speed and vigor, and I believe we are going to be pleasantly surprised on June 9."

The Legion of Frontiersmen joined the search. The group serves the CD organization as auxiliary police, is composed of city business men.

3½-Year-Old Tot Found Asleep Near Only Clue

By MONTE ROBERTS and ROY THORSEN

Just a few minutes before 1 p.m. today, 3½-year-old David Anderson of Metchosin was found alive, sleeping under a tree, after the greatest 24-hour bush hunt the southern Island has ever organized.

The clue which led to his discovery was a tiny running shoe found at 9:50 this morning by Dennis Ridley, one of the search party.

The boy was found by Gnr. Charles Shiro, 119 AA Bty, Work Point.

He was found in a "shoulder-to-shoulder" sweep by the 500 searchers that was started at noon after other weary hours of scouring the country had failed to locate the boy.

Although apparently in good shape, the little fellow was given a drink of milk and was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital by RCMP from Colwood for a checkover.

The mass sweep through the hinterland surrounding the boy's home was an "all-man" venture. Three dogs sent to trace the boy failed to find a sign of him.

With Gnr. Shiro when David was found, only about one mile north of his home, were BSM Ken Buxton, Gordon Head Camp, and Orval Coulter, RCN. His mother burst into tears when she heard the good news, flashed to her via walkie-talkie.

Immediately sirens were sounded to indicate to others spread over close to one-half mile of country that the search was over.

Close to 500 volunteer searchers, led by the emergency search team of the South Vancouver Island Rangers, plodded slowly across a two-square-mile area surrounding the little boy's home off Wishart Road, near Turner's Shingle Mill.

The search concentrated at noon in the vicinity of the running shoe, which was found approximately one mile north of the boy's home. The boy was found one hour later.

The RCMP bloodhound Rip, and the Island Ranger's hunting dogs Sir Roderick and Joe, picked up a faint scent at the point the shoe was found, but it petered out.

Tiny Footprints Seen on Ground

Sir Roderick's handler, Ron Mason, stated he could detect tiny footprints where the dog was tracking, but they, too, disappeared.

At 12:10 p.m. all searchers were organized into a human chain to cover every inch of the area.

The search reached its height in terms of manpower early this morning, but all through the night volunteers, answering an appeal from radio station CKDA, toiled through the wet, clinging underbrush, probing hollows and bushes with long poles.

Disappearance of the boy was first reported to the RCMP about noon Wednesday, who dispatched constables and the bloodhound to the scene.

Late in the afternoon RCMP called on the emergency search service of the South Vancouver Island rangers, who sent 25 men in charge of Arthur Hall.

The rangers started a systematic search, aided by their dogs, at 7 p.m., and kept at it steadily until 2 a.m.

They were joined by about 20 volunteers from the neighborhood early in the evening. Shortly after midnight, CKDA broadcast an appeal for more volunteers and the response was quick and generous.

Through the darkness of the night, hampered by the intermittent rain, and the heavily wooded, uneven terrain, the men carried on the search.

Navy and army volunteers totaling more than 200 also joined the search early this morning. The navy organized four separate parties, one for each compass point, and worked through the woods for 1,000 yards in each direction. They were spaced 30 feet apart, but found it difficult to maintain contact even at that close distance, the brush is so heavy.

Shoulder-to-Shoulder Searching

The concentrated search which started shortly after noon used 300 men, who walked practically shoulder to shoulder. Parents of little David, Mr. and Mrs. Peter G. L. Anderson, were near exhaustion. Shocked, worried, and fatigued, they still found words to express their gratitude to the citizen-volunteers.

"I think it is really swell, the way people have come forward," Mr. Anderson, 25, said. "I can see that people really have a heart when it comes to a lost child."

Said Mrs. Anderson: "It is all pretty wonderful. I have never seen so many nice people in all my life."

Dreadful Wait Ends for Parents

Long hours of worry and strain were wiped away for 25-year-old Peter Anderson and his wife Gwen when small son David turned up safely at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Picture was taken shortly before noon, when there was still no news of the child's whereabouts.

NO 'CHOW' AT DOG 'SHOW'; PUZZLE PRIZE UP TO $100

Times crossword-contest entrants jumped by nearly 1,000 this week, but still no one came up with the winning answer to the $75 Puzzle No. 8.

Biggest stickler appears to have been the word "show," which the puzzle composer rules is the best answer to the definition "a fine one might appeal to a man interested in dogs." Many people thought "chow" was best.

The full answer to Puzzle No. 8 appears on Page 13. With no winner this week Puzzle No. 9, appearing Friday, will be worth $100.

Auto Strikes Idle 56,000

Ford Motor Sees 85,000 of Its Employees Laid Off by Monday

DETROIT (UP)—Mushrooming auto strikes idled more than 56,000 auto workers in the midwest today, including 37,500 in the Detroit area.

Ford Motor Co., with 7,900 already idled, said 85,000 of its 128,000 hourly employees across the country would be laid off by Monday.

A strike at Ford's Canton, O., forgings plant would force a shutdown of all but one of its 18 assembly plants throughout the nation.

The $3,000 Ford workers facing layoffs included 55,000 in the Detroit area alone, 43,100 of them at Ford's giant River Rouge plant in suburban Dearborn.

The 56,900 industry workers already idled, all of them members of the CIO United Auto Workers Union, included:

Detroit—35,000 idled Wednesday by a jurisdictional squabble involving 100 men at Budd Co., which makes body stampings for Chrysler. De Soto and Dodge passenger cars, Michael Lacey, UAW director, branded it a wildcat strike. It caused layoffs of 8,000 men at Budd and 27,000 Chrysler Corp. assembly workers.

Canton—1,400 on strike since April 20 in a dispute over pay and job standards.

Detroit—2,500 idled Wednesday at Ford's Rouge plant by the Canton strike.

Cleveland—4,000 idled Wednesday at Ford's foundry and engine plant by the Canton strike.

Toledo—8,500 idled at Willys-Overland, most of them since the start of a Borg-Warner gear plant strike at Muncie, Ind., May 8.

Kenosha, Wis.—3,500 idled at Nash by the Borg strike.

Danville, Ill.—2,300 General Motors workers on strike Wednesday over unsettled grievances.

SCHEDULED TO CLOSE

In addition, Ford assembly plants were scheduled to close today at Louisville, Atlanta, Norfolk, Chester, Pa.; Somerville, Mass.; Buffalo, Dearborn, Chicago, Memphis, Dallas and St. Paul.

Ford said assembly plants at Kansas City, St. Louis and Edgewater and Metuchen, N.J., would be closed Friday, and those at Richmond and Long Beach, Calif., on Monday. Ford said its Lincoln plant at Wayne, Mich., would continue to operate "as long as possible."

Ford said defense projects at Livonia, Mich., Chicago, Kansas City and Dearborn would not be affected.

Even if the Canton strike is settled immediately, Ford said it would take a week or 10 days for full-scale production to resume.

Only a month ago a prolonged strike at Ford's Monroe, Mich., parts plant also over job standards, resulted in the idling of more than 60,000 workers and a production slash of more than 50 per cent.

Ford said the strike at the Canton plant, which turns out axle forgings for Ford and Mercury cars and Ford trucks, concerned pay rates for only nine employees. But the union disagreed.

Ken Bannan, director of the UAW's Ford department, conceded that only a small number of men were directly concerned but said, "the principle involved in the wage dispute could affect every worker in the Canton plant."

CANADIAN FORD HOPES WORK CAN CONTINUE

WINDSOR, Ont. (UP)—Ford of Canada hoped today it could keep up production throughout a threatened layoff of 85,000 workers in American Ford plants.

The parent company announced that 17 of its 18 plants in the United States would have to be closed by Monday because of a prolonged strike at its supplier plant in Canton, O.

A Ford spokesman here said the company would take no immediate action on the announcement. It was hoped that stocks of American-produced auto parts were sufficient to keep plants here in operation for some time.

The most significant fact from the viewpoint of the Canadian company was that 43,000 employees at the huge River Rouge plant would be laid off Monday.

The nearby factory supplies many parts vital to Canadian production, and any shut-down at Rouge is watched closely by Windsor officials.

Minister Charged With Holding Winery Shares

DARTMOUTH, N.S. (CP)—the department of health... the Robert L. Stanfield, Progressive Conservative leader, said Wednesday night Health Minister Harold Connolly "has been and may still be" a substantial shareholder in the holding company of a Canadian winery.

He told a meeting here that he could prove that the cabinet minister, during his term of office, held shares in a private company known as Wine Securities Ltd., parent company of Chateau Gai Wines.

"Chateau Gai Wines sells a large volume of its product to the Nova Scotia liquor commission," he said. He added that "to the best of my knowledge" the company sells only to the government company in so far as sales are concerned in Nova Scotia.

Criticizing the Liberal government for "failing to investigate the operations of liquor agents in the province," which the PC's claim is a hot campaign issue, Mr. Stanfield said that a Liberal ward chairman in the riding of Halifax North "did $50,000 worth of business through the

MOUNTIES IN DEMAND BY BRITISH

LONDON (Reuters)—The tables have been turned on the 46 RCMP here for the Coronation. Used to man hunting, they themselves now are being hunted—by hundreds of admiring Britons.

The Mounties have received a flood of requests to visit private homes, schools and shows.

Samples: The organizers of 20 street Coronation parties want a Mountie each.

A 12-year-old boy in Carlisle, England, wants a red coat to spend a night with him—"or at least come to tea."

Horse shows in half-a-dozen large cities want the Mounties to stage their famous musical ride or riding exhibitions. "It would be impossible for us to accept all the requests we've received," said an RCMP officer.

"We'd be tickled to relax a little, but the 46 men and 46 horses will be tied up until the end of June."

Prince George Bush Fire Under Control

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C.—A stubborn forest fire burning just south of the city for the past three days was reported to be under control Wednesday.

Some 125 fire-fighters and six bulldozers have battled the blaze as it whipped through 1,200 acres of the Red Rock district.

"The fire was believed to have started in a sawdust pile. Two portable sawmills were destroyed and another damaged. Unofficial estimates of damage ran up to $50,000."

Foresters said the bush area had been left in a tinder-dry state by lack of rain and brisk winds aided the blaze.

U.K. Sends New Diplomat to Uneasy Egypt

Hankey Replaces Ailing Stevenson

LONDON (AP)—Britain today suddenly switched a trouble-shooting diplomat from behind the Iron Curtain to take charge of her mission in Egypt as Anglo-Egyptian relations worsened.

The Foreign Office announced that Robert Hankey, minister to Hungary, has been ordered to fly to Cairo next week to take over from Ambassador Sir Ralph Stevenson, who is returning to Britain on sick leave.

Stevenson, together with Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, commander in chief of British land forces in the Middle East, headed Britain's negotiating team at talks with Egyptian leaders on the future status of the British garrison in the Suez Canal Zone.

The talks were suspended last week.

Stevenson long has been troubled with sciatica. Hankey last year was turned down by Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh when Britain named him ambassador to Iran during the troubled Anglo-Iranian oil dispute.

He is at present vacationing in this country, but will cut short his stay to fly out to Cairo sometime next week.

The envoy will retain his accreditation to the Hungarian government while serving in Cairo.

TEMPORARY The foreign office spokesman described this unusual move as "a temporary emergency measure."

Stevenson, he said, eventually will return to Cairo as ambassador.

Hankey has had considerable experience on Middle East politics.

Water Board Okays Steel From Japan

Authorization for purchase of steel from Japan in order to prevent delay in the laying of the new water pipeline from Thetis Lake Road to Smith's Hill Reservoir, was given by the Victoria Machinery Depot Wednesday by Greater Victoria Water Board.

About 500 tons are required and while VMD may get it from any source, the bulk is expected to come from Japan.

The board approved an increase of an estimated $6,000 in the contract price with VMD, who were awarded the contract for manufactured steel pipe on a bid of $615,000.

Failure of the U.S. Steel Co. to make a promised delivery in July necessitated the change. The U.S. delivery will not be made until August.

LITIGATION FEARED

In the meantime, the board has let a contract for laying of pipe and a delay could result in litigation, Chief Commissioner Ron Upward reported. In addition he said the new portion of the Island Highway would be completed before the U.S. steel could be manufactured into pipe and laid.

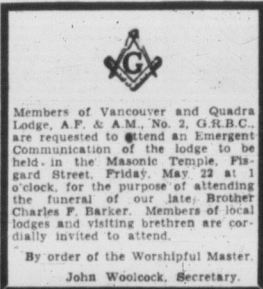

"We would have to pay for every cut in the new roadway," he said.

The board felt it would still be $33,000 up on the overall picture despite the $6,000 increase. The VMD bid was $39,000 lower than the next lowest bid for the contract with the board.

Reeve Joe Casey, chairman, stated VMD, under terms of its contract, could actually go out and buy the needed steel anywhere and charge the increase to the board.

"VMD felt we should know the situation," he said.

Mr. Upward said 2,500 tons of steel were required. The board has 1,000 tons now and 500 from Japan will enable it to continue the job until delivery of the remaining 1,000 tons from the United States.

Members of Vancouver and Quadra Lodge, A.F. & A.M., No. 2, G.R.B.C. are requested to attend an Emergency Communication of the lodge to be held in the Masonic Temple, Pigeon Street, Friday, May 22 at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late Brother Charles F. Barker. Members of local lodges and visiting brethren are cordially invited to attend.

Dulles, Nehru Seen in Accord

Emerge Smiling After Second Parley on Asia, World Problems

NEW DELHI (AP)—State Secretary John Foster Dulles and Prime Minister Nehru emerged smiling today from their second conference on Asian and world problems and the beaming Indian government chief told newspaper men "we will meet again tomorrow."

The hour and 45-minute conference followed a lengthy private chat between the two men Wednesday night at which authoritative sources said the Korean peace deadlock was the No. 1 topic.

After the conference this morning, Nehru said: "Certainly we discussed Korea. But we were able to talk about a great many things this morning—I would say that Korea was roughly 1-10th of what we covered."

ROKs Throw Back Enemy Attack Forces

Victory After 12 Hours of Fighting

SEOUL (AP)—Counter-attacking South Korean infantry today threw 150 to 200 Chinese Reds off an eastern front ridge after 12 hours of close quarter saw fighting.

The Chinese swarmed up the slopes and seized the western end of the 300-yard-long ridge shortly before midnight.

Stubborn Republic of Korea soldiers clung to the eastern end. The Reds then back two South Korean counterattacks. But RoK reinforcements were thrown into the battle, before dawn and after six hours of fierce fighting the Reds called it quits, the 8th Army said.

Elsewhere along the 155-mile battle front the Reds probed Allied lines and patrol skirmishes flared between the lines. Cloudy skies limited aerial action to fighter-bomber strikes along the front and troop and supply areas just behind the Red lines.

Archbishop Raps Working Sundays

VANCOUVER (CP)—Archbishop William Duke says there is "far too much unnecessary servile work being done on Sundays."

The Roman Catholic archbishop made his observation Wednesday following a tour of the Fraser Valley. He criticized unnecessary Sunday "filling the land, building summer houses, fences, residences; painting, plastering, commercialized sports and laundry work of all kinds."

"The violation of the Sunday is equivalent to the public profession of atheism," he said. "It is forbidden by the third commandment of God."

British Steamship Official Denies Ferrying Red Troops

HONG KONG (AP)—An official of a British steamship company denied accusations by a United States congressional committee that the firm had transported Communist troops. Horman-Fisher's statement was issued in reply to testimony before a subcommittee headed by Senator Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin that two British-owned ships were used to transport Red troops along the Chinese coast. The committee was told these vessels later were hired to carry U.S. mutual security administration goods. Horman-Fisher said the Communists seized three Wheelock Marden ships and are using them in China trade. "They were confiscated when we tried to withdraw them from China in August, 1951," he said. "We have no control over them."

Former Member of B.C. Legislature Dies at Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP)—Donald M. Mackay, OBE, 63, director of the Indian affairs branch for the department of citizenship and immigration and one-time member of the British Columbia Legislature, died Tuesday night. He suffered a heart seizure a week ago and had been in hospital since.

A native of Goderich, Ont., Mr. Mackay went to B.C. in his youth to become a land surveyor. After army service in the First World War when he won the OBE in the field and was discharged as a major, he returned to the coast province.

From 1933 to 1936 he represented the riding of Cariboo in the B.C. Legislature.

Later he became Indian commissioner for B.C. and then came to Ottawa. In 1948 he was appointed director of the Indian affairs branch.

The body will be sent to Goderich for burial there Friday.

As the Public Knows Them

FORMAL CLOSING OF NOMINATIONS for next month's elections produced no surprises. Candidates who had previously announced their intentions of seeking office observed the formalities and 28 aspirants were listed for the six seats in the Greater Victoria community.

Within the next few days it will become increasingly important for voters of southern Vancouver Island to study the records and capabilities of those candidates. From that study we believe the Liberals will emerge in a highly favorable light.

In Victoria, all three nominees of that party are individuals of experience and high repute in public office. Mrs. Nancy Hodges is the only woman in the Commonsense who has held the position of Speaker. W. T. Straith, Q.C., is a former minister of proven abilities who entered the provincial lists after serving the citizens of Victoria effectively in municipal office. Capt. D. J. Proudfoot has demonstrated, during his terms as a member, a sound appreciation of Liberal principles and recognition of the needs and rights of his constituents.

With Reeve Archie Gibbs of Oak Bay, these Victoria members were instrumental in providing a measure of balance to the legislature at its last session. Through their forbearance Mr. Bennett's headlong rush toward dissolution was checked in the hopes that he and his Social Credit colleagues would introduce legislation of value to the people of British Columbia. Only when the government forced its own defeat by insisting on the Rolston formula vote did the Greater Victoria Liberals, having duly warned the premier, withdraw their support.

These are the Liberal candidates who have offered to renew their services to the community and the province. They are joined by Arthur Ash, who represented Saanich in the legislature preceding that over which Mr. Bennett presided, and by Geoffrey Edgelow, who is contesting the Esquimalt seat for the second time.

None of the above is a Johnny-come-lately to the party. Nor are any of them adventurers who have abandoned other professions for their personal political fortunes fared badly.

They represent a solid core of that element in public life which has helped in previous years to give this province the stability so important to its development.

The platform on which they stand is straightforward and easily understood. For the most part it expresses a continuation of those progressive measures which have proved valuable to the people of British Columbia.

At a time when Social Credit members are carrying on an intensive campaign of innuendo, the records of Greater Victoria Liberals inspire confidence.

Narrowing the Argument

THE DISAGREEMENT OVER the procedure to be followed in settling the fate of Korean prisoners of war who do not wish to return home appears to be approaching a climax. This question, the sole remaining topic of argument between the armistice negotiators, apparently is all that prevents a termination of the war, although past experience in dealing with Red spokesmen has shown that one "final" question seems inevitably to be followed by another.

The expressed opinions of British leaders, plus the wishes of other allies of the United States, no doubt have had a bearing on the current situation. The American delegates have withdrawn from Panmunjom until May 24 to prepare an offer which it is hoped will be a complete answer to an earlier proposal by the communists.

Two principles dominate the United Nations stand. First, no prisoner should be forced to return home. Secondly, there should be a time limit on talks designed to determine the fate of those prisoners who do not wish to be repatriated.

The Russians had at last come round to agreement on the first consideration, on a basis largely deriving from the Indian plan brought forward last December. Under this plan unrepatriated prisoners would be turned over to a neutral commission. As approved by the United Nations Assembly, this body would include Switzerland, Poland, Sweden and Czechoslovakia.

Ninety days after an armistice the commission would assume supervision of the remaining prisoners. If a political conference among the warring nations could not within another 30 days arrive at a decision as to the fate of the men, they would be turned over to the United Nations for a solution.

American negotiators objected to the Russian version, which would place no time limit on the length of the political negotiations. In other words, the prisoners conceivably could spend years in captivity. Such a threat, within the power of the communists to implement, might induce many of the POWs to take a chance on returning to communist domination.

Another question of method has proved contentious. The allies hold that Korean prisoners should not be sent out of South Korea while their fate is being decided, although they are willing to permit Chinese prisoners to be sent to India or some other designated country.

The United Nations representatives also advance a threat against further delaying tactics by the Reds. Unless agreement can speedily be effected, they say, they will free the thousands of North Korean troops concerned and permit them to seek living in South Korea. As a precedent, they refer to the communist admission that they freed some 50,000 South Korean prisoners "at the front"—which has been interpreted as forcing them to join the communist army.

To the layman the outstanding issues might appear readily soluble. But the UN cannot force back into communist hands any prisoners who crossed the lines on the basis of invitations issued by our forces, or any who fear that life would not be worth living under a communist regime. Many of the prisoners, indeed, might be viewed as civilians seeking political asylum.

On the other hand, the communists stand to suffer a great loss of face as the result of wholesale refusals to return. (Some 48,500 prisoners are involved.) They can be expected to make every attempt to get them back by one means or another.

Meanwhile the war drags on, and the toll in men and treasure demanded of the west may be seen by the communists as an alternative objective to the main one in which they failed—the capture of South Korea through armed aggression.

Milk Back in the Freezer

PREMIER BENNETT HAS acted logically in contradicting Agricultural Minister Kiernan's announcement of plans to decontrol milk prior to the election. The premier says he is unwilling to mix the "great basic industry of agriculture" in the election campaign "for political advantage."

It would be pleasing to accept that explanation at its face value.

Actually the milk decontrol issue had turned a trifle sour. Candidates for parties other than Social Credit had pointed to the fact that some political capital might be made of a decontrol order on the assumption that it would encourage an immediate, if temporary, drop in prices. These critics had noted that any such reaction would impress consumers and, if the move were delayed long enough, could avoid adverse response from the various branches of the industry which would not know until after the election the effects the change would have on them.

Whether Mr. Bennett has lifted the issue to a high moral plane or has taken a bacteriological count and found too many bugs in the milk decontrol plan, he has followed a sound course in shelving the issue until after the polling day.

Abusing a Privilege

THE ATTENTION OF THE Greater Victoria School Board has been drawn again to the school window-smashing vandalism occurring after class hours.

This senseless practice, an obvious example of mental instability in itself, is a matter of community concern. As more and more open spaces are taken up by private home builders, districts find school grounds among the few areas remaining where young people can play. The trend in recent years has been to make such grounds available to groups in the areas adjacent to them. But if desirable use of the property after school hours is to be accompanied by wilful damage, school authorities will be less inclined to leave the grounds open to the public when they are not required by students. If vandalism continues, the trustees will have some justification for enforcing trespass regulations which would close the playing fields and deprive decent young people of valuable recreational grounds.

LOOSE ENDS

The Madness Of Caesar

BY BRUCE HUTCHISON

LAKE COMO—This is written on a balcony, high above the azure waters of Lake Como, where the first lights are twinkling like swarms of fireflies to the tops of the mountains—scenically an exact replica of many lakes, equally beautiful, in British Columbia. But the villages crowded about this deep gash in the Alps are not thinking about scenery. They are thinking about the June election in Italy, and they think with certain grim local memories.

A few miles north of here Mussolini was fleeing, in his last days of life, to Germany. He wore a German uniform and traveled by car with a German escort. The Italian partisans had blocked the road with rocks and searched every passing car. When the Duce stepped into the road, before the rifles of his own countrymen, he was instantly recognized. That face could never be disguised.

WITH this prize in their hands the partisans awaited orders from their chief in the town of Como. Meanwhile they carried him south and held him in a mountain village. At this point his mistress arrived in another car and insisted on joining her lover. The obliging partisans took her to Mussolini.

Then the orders came. The fallen dictator was thrust against a wall and shot. The woman, who lacked judgment but never courage, stood proudly by Mussolini's body and told the partisans to kill her also.

"Well," said the ex-partisan who recounted these events for me, "in war one life more or less means little. How you say it? We must oblige the lady. So we shoot her. We have nothing against that woman. We do not like to shoot women. But she asked it, so we shot. That is very black. But it is war, and Mussolini, he is very black also."

SO FAR, said my informant, the behavior of the partisans had been correct. It was necessary to destroy the man who had destroyed Italy. But after that a terrible thing was done "to make the name of Italy black and stinking in the world."

The two bodies were loaded in a truck and carried triumphantly to Milan. There, as all the world knows from the hideous photographs of the scene, Mussolini and his faithful consort were hanged by the feet from an advertising sign in front of a commercial garage.

So perished the last Caesar of what the ex-partisan called, in a rough translation, "Caesarian madness," the disease which ultimately kills all of his kind. In the still night, under the stars of a deep blue Italian sky, the man who had helped to destroy Mussolini tried to put into English the general madness of the dictator's gaudy era. He himself, on graduating from university in Italy, Germany and England, had seen in fascism the salvation of a chaotic country. He joined the black shirts.

AS A HIGHLY educated man he became at first one of the expert propagandists of the regime, writing, he emphasized, only what he believed. And at that time, he kept repeating, Mussolini was good for Italy. He brought order out of national anarchy. (Everyone I have talked to in Italy says the same thing.)

As a captain in the Italian army, this man fought in the Ethiopian war. One did not have to agree with him to understand his argument—Italy was overpopulated, it needed colonies and it remembered that all the great states had taken colonies where they could find them in the past.

"So we took Ethiopia and we began to bring it the civilization. But that was not correct. The other nations objected. We are black in the eyes of the world. Then begins the great mistake."

THE GREAT mistake, as most Italians agree, was the alliance with Germany, the declaration of war on France and England. "The night the war is declared," said my informant, "I am sitting right here at this table. I say to my friends, 'This is the end. We lose this war. This they don't like, but it is true. Now, sir, our tragedy.'"

The tragedy took him to the campaign in Greece where, surrounded in a mountain pocket by the Greeks, he fought through the freezing winter in summer uniform, a light tunic and shorts. Government troops rescued them.

After that experience he turned against fascism as passionately as he had embraced it and became a partisan, hiding in the hills until the day when Mussolini blundered into the trap on Lake Como. What, I asked, of the future? Would Fascism revive? Would there be another Mussolini some day?

"NO, SIR," said he, "fascism is dead. There can be no second Mussolini. The cost is too high. He drew his finger like a razor across his throat. 'Finish!'"

In the present election campaign, which has plastered every wall in Italy with placards and crudely painted hammer and sickles, the disenchanted propagandist is campaigning as a "Liberal." What that means he does not exactly know. With 72 active political parties, names and theories must not be pressed too far. He asks only a government that will re-establish the lost "discipline" created by Mussolini and ruined by Caesarian madness.

The Communists? Ah, there are only a few real Communists, the inner core. The electors who gave 45 per cent of the vote to the Communist party in the last election were not Communists at all, only poor and angry people.

"IN THIS village," he said, "there are 16 Communists. Twelve of them are good Catholics and sing in the church choir. They know I hate Communism, but be sure—I may vote Communist some day but it will never be Communist. It will—how you say—slip through Russia's fingers. No, sir, we laugh too much, we love the sun too much to be Communist. It is a name, only a name."

How true or false all this may be I cannot say. I am sure, though, that this man believed it. He had seen the madness of Caesar at first hand, and Caesar hanging by his heels with the woman who could not live without him.

Takes Both Sides to Meet Half-Way

As Our Readers See It

NO ISMS

You may have two elections this year, one in B.C., one federal. I don't want to tell the people how to vote, but to remember that Canada has been built up on a solid foundation with good pioneers, principles and prosperity. Are you going to change this for a lot of "isms" or keep on to the two-party principles of good government? I plead with you, think these things over well before you place that X in its vital place.

BILL ARCHER.

MISSION ACCOMPLISHED

Investigating a case of cruelty to a cat reported in a recent letter to the Times, our inspector ascertained that the statements made were correct.

The inspector contacted the owner of the cat, and the children concerned, who were only four and six years old. They admitted to their parents that they were responsible for the act of cruelty. One of them had received two bad scratches on her face.

The parents when interviewed and warned, undertook to exercise proper control and discipline.

PAUL L. GREEN,
Vice-President, Victoria SPCA.

NOT SO FUNNY

Mr. G. W. Cousins is quite right in his opening paragraph of his letter to the press that "There are a great many people greatly concerned these days about Social Credit so-called 'funny money.'"

They should be concerned. The value of their wages, their investments, their life insurance is their concern, and the chaos and inflation that would result if SC theories were put into effect concerns them greatly.

There is nothing funny about "funny money." It might aptly be described as "phony money."

Mr. Cousins' further statements are divorced from the facts. Banking, in a nutshell, may be described as the recognition of the difference between a mortgage and a bill of exchange.

Under the present banking system a bank finds money for a productive purpose, the fulfillment of which will provide for repayment. The Canadian banking system is recognized as second to none, whilst the theories of the Socialists, most of whom have not yet reached financial mental puberty, have been tried anywhere in the world, the nearest comparison being perhaps assignats issued by Napoleon known to all economists as having caused more destitution and misery than the terrible wars themselves.

The Up-Island Viewpoint

GRAIN OF SALT

Twin Cities Times (Port Alberni)
Misstatements, half truths and truths told in a way to give a false impression are to be expected in a political campaign and have made skeptics of us all. The idea that all's fair in electioneering is now accepted and we instinctively add the grain of salt to statements made on the campaign platform.

FEDERAL PROBLEM

Cowichan Leader
Before any further great amount of money is spent on the Doukhobor problem the federal government should study the matter of taking from the radicals the new citizenship they have shown themselves unable to earn. The setting up of special Doukhobor reservations might be fitting for a sect which has continually exhibited a serfdom mentality.

There can be no lasting peace for the neighbors of any fanatics. The "Sons of Freedom" have proved themselves the enemies of freedom. Theirs is essentially a problem for the federal government.

ANARCHY

Ladysmith Chronicle
While the great mass of the people who are not neighbors with the Sons of Freedom, are almost in complete sympathy with the irritated groups who threaten retaliatory steps, vigilante law is not the answer. Extraordinary policing measures are already costing the country a half million dollars annually—probably ten times more than comparative areas elsewhere. Proposals for mass emigration are usually stymied at the last moment, either by the refusal of other countries to accept the trouble-makers, or by the refusal of the Sons of Freedom to move from their present habitat.

RETALIATION

Comox Argus
If the American businessman is not afraid of foreign competition why are they placing an import tax on base metals from Canada they have been pleading for but now do not want. It has been suggested in Ottawa with the approval of the Canadian cabinet that if the U.S.A. doesn't want our lead and zinc, we could retaliate by placing an export tax on nickel, asbestos and iron ore which they want and must have to balance their economy. These retaliatory tariffs and restraints of trade are vicious but apparently that is the only language the pressure groups in the Republican Party understand.

WHY SO SILENT?

Nanaimo Free Press
Why the government should introduce such a radical change in motor regulations in such a hole in the corner method is puzzling. (System of points for car drivers, inaugurated without announcement May 1.) Instead of making a big noise about it so that all drivers would be aware of the change, it is brought into force by order-in-council, and no one publicly told of it until a couple of weeks later.

Motorists will not improve their behavior, because there is such a regulation of demerit marks in the regulations, but because they know there is such a regulation. It is the fear of earning such marks that should have the effect of improving driving and reducing the accident ratio.

As it is many drivers throughout the province have been earning black marks and known nothing about them—because of the secret manner in which the regulation has been introduced.

Economic Motives

Our B.C. provincial election candidates, while not making monetary principles or theories an election issue, are nevertheless stressing their having an economic basis. Whatever the election issues may be, the real capital of our province is not our bonds and stocks but its parents and their children.

Whatever issues are kept out of this election, we are governed by economic motives—a fact we cannot gainsay. So here are some points which we can use as a measuring stick to evaluate the election campaign issues:

1. In spite of all our scientific and technical progress, the compounded charges of real and fictitious capital are destroying the market as a clearing house by encroaching on our purchasing power.

2. Our purchasing power is similarly affected by the many forms of taxation. We should contribute to the support of our government in proportion to our personal revenue—that is the first principle of taxation.

3. Our purchasing power is reduced by capital charges appearing in prices, which operate as an automatic brake on production.

4. The sole function of money is the distribution of the fruits of production.
5. A wage system is a method of distribution which confuses the end with the means by placing men and capital in competition with each other, subject like to the law of supply and demand. That definition ought to give the B.C. Federation of Trade and Industry and labor unions alike a thrill!

THE REAL THING
Big thick chunks of bread. What wonderful bread! In those days wheat bread tasted like wheat, corn bread tasted like corn. Buckwheat cakes were all buckwheat. No food was ever bleached, doctored up, enriched in ever factory as it is today. The only breakfast food was plain boiled wheat; nothing ever came out of a package. Sugar was a fine dark brown, and you crumbled it from a keg.

Parishioners Commandments

A friend visiting in England for the Corona magazine has sent me a copy of a little parish magazine from Devonshire, which he thought might amuse me. He is right, for, in addition to the ordinary notices of church and parish meetings and doings, it contains a list of 10 unusual "commandments" for the parishioners.

The vicar of Elacombe, who composed the "commandments" in question must have a sense of humor plus a keen understanding of his fellow-humans plus courage to thus put down his gentle lampoonings of the habits of church-goers. And, as a church-goer, I feel pretty sure that many of us have fallen from grace when it comes to carrying out the "commandments" he propounds. Here, for instance, is one of them:

"Thou shalt follow the sidesman on to the seat pointed out to thee and go unto the farthest end thereof, not making thyself a seat-hog or endangering the corner of thy feet by having latecomers squeeze by thee."

As one who has more than once thus invoked an assault on my favorite corn, I would gladly obey that commandment; except that the particular pew I have in mind is open to entry at both ends.

NOT 'SWAT THY RIVAL'

Church-goers whose thought show a tendency to wander or who find it hard to keep awake during some sermons are rebuked in these terms:

"Thou shalt harken diligently unto the words of thy minister and not divert thy attention by planning thy dinner, devising a way by which thou mayest swat thy business rival, and especially not distort thy countenance and give forth sonorous sounds by falling into a deep sleep."

"Thou shalt not nervously stare at your wrist watch during the service, giving the impression that thy mind is upon thy dinner, early afternoon golf or cinema, or charabanc (bus) trip into the country."

That little dig about "devising a way to swat thy business rival" gave me a chuckle. I wonder how many business deals have been worked out during a sermon based upon the Golden Rule, for instance?

FAILINGS AND FOIBLES

Then there is a gentle exhortation to those who are always impatient to get away. They are not confined to the church-going class either. We meet them at concerts and shows, but that clergyman's "commandment" has a significance for them all:

"Thou shalt not interrupt the benediction by putting on thy gloves and coat before the close of the service that thou mayest be able to make a quick getaway before the vicar hath any time to speak to thee."

Yes, that Devonshire vicar evidently understands human foibles and failings and at the same time, is human enough to acknowledge that the mere going to church doesn't eradicate these little weaknesses to which many of us are prone.

It brings back memories of a little church in Worcestershire and of a long-dead old lady who was very outspoken on the subject of feminine neighbors who only appeared at church when they had just acquired a new outfit. Those were the days when elderly women wore bonnets, and I can still hear her slightly acid comment on one of her contemporaries who "always turned her feather to the congregation."

It was another way of saying what Dr. Preys wrote in his diary: "To church; and with my mourning, very handsome, and new petwig, make a great show."

Some Prophetic History?

THE TRUE beginning of the disaster that overtook American policy in the year 1960 was neither the failure of the State Department to grasp the gravity of the Moravsk-Ostrava crisis, nor the reluctance of the White House to respond to the military challenge. In this case it is the historian's privilege to shed new light, for the first time illuminating one of the great mysteries of this crucial period.

This humble beginning, then, from which such immense consequences were later to flow, was a meeting of Comrades Radek and Putilov, then the deputy chiefs of the American and Central European Sections of the MVD.

It seems clear that Comrade Radek had the first inspiration. It was Radek, at any rate, who remarked that he "only feared seven members of the American foreign service." Only these seven, he said, truly understood the complex situation of the Central European situation, or could correctly foretell the improbable reactions of the Central European leaders.

"It would be the same as a great victory," Radek is recorded as saying, "if we could only get rid of these seven American experts."

It was Putilov, however, who undoubtedly carried Radek's hint into brilliant and practical execution. The Americans, to be sure, gave him his golden opportunity. Being a people in a late stage of decadence, they had lacked the wisdom to adopt the proven and tested method of ensuring loyalty and security. The thumbscrew, the heated head band, the interrogation under lights, even the helpful corrective camp, had all been neglected. Instead, they had chosen to rely upon security officers and security files. Comrade Putilov had the constructive vision (ever honored be his name) to grasp the central fact about this half-hearted system. Rumors of all kinds, reports from any source, intended letters de cachet from personal enemies, maudering of neurotic women, spiteful outpourings of disappointed subordinates, were all diligently collected by the American security officers in the American security files.

Thus it was easy for Putilov's brave agents to make the security files of any American official read like the mingled life histories of Emperor Nero and the lamented Alger Hiss.

At this interesting moment, moreover, a change of administration in Washington assisted the plans of Comrade Putilov. To the critical post of Chief Security Officer of the State Department, the new American government appointed a man whom Putilov gleefully nicknamed "my unconscious collaborator."

The sequel was inevitable. It is unnecessary to charge this history's pages with the trifling details, such as the "unconscious collaborator's" practice of bribing American diplomat's servants, so that the American government paid good money for the stories that Comrade Putilov thoughtfully suggested to these suddenly unfortunate Central European maids and housemen.

Within a few months' time, all seven of the American experts on Central Europe had been dismissed from the service or banished to such humble posts as the Patagonian consulates. Thereafter, the State Department, without eyes or ears, blundered onwards to the final crisis in the manner it is now our happy duty to relate.

(N.B. By no means all the characters, statements, practices and happenings of the foregoing fragment are as imaginary as the fragment itself.)

IN HOLLYWOOD

By ALINE MOSBY

Paul Muni Returns in TV

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Paul Muni, absent from the screen for six years, came back to movies today—but this time for television. The famed Oscar winner, one of the biggest stars of the '30's and '40's in such films as "The Story of Louis Pasteur" and "Scarface," joined the list of past master movie luminaries who are switching to the home screens.

But he insisted his debut in a half-hour TV movie, a courtroom drama for NBC's Ford Theatre screen gems, was not a "comeback."

"It isn't a case of coming back from somewhere," he explained. "I had seen the program and thought it very well done. I liked this script and decided to do it. It all happened very quickly."

"I am working on an idea now for television, perhaps a series. This isn't the beginning of a new career or anything like that. If I do TV at all it will be in association with someone, where I will have some authority."

It was the absence of his own authority, he said, that caused him to bow out of movies six years ago after a lightweight number,

"Encounter." He said he decided "to give up working for somebody else. I wanted to make my own mistakes." The greying actor scoffed at the Hollywood legend he was a victim of the "Oscar jinx."

He tried a play, "They Knew What They Wanted," that "wasn't too successful." But he appeared for six months in the London version of "Death of a Salesman."

While traveling around Europe, he worked for two and a half years on his idea of adding the life of Alfred Nobel, of the famed peace prize, to his list of screen portrayals.

"I met the Nobel family in Sweden and they put up a lot of obstacles. Then I heard a Paris producer planned a Nobel film, so I gave it up three years ago," he said. "I may never do another feature film."

Since then he's done "only little things, like radio shows, that didn't amount to anything. I waited for something I could get excited about."

A year ago he and his wife returned quietly to their San Fernando Valley home. There, in a workroom, Muni works on his television idea surrounded by photographs of himself as Pasteur, Scarface, Emile Zola, the "Fugitive From a Chain Gang," Juarez and other characters from his films.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

VICTORIA'S SUNSHINE RECORD TO DATE, 1953—584.1 HOURS

SYNOPSIS: A storm which took a curved path over the U.S. coast from California to Washington made a delayed appearance in southern coastal sections of B.C. today. However, the main force of the storm is south of the border and gradually improving weather is forecast for the Vancouver and Victoria areas. Some showers will mark the passage of the cooler air through the interior today and Friday. The Prince Rupert area will remain mostly sunny.

Island Digest

COURTENAY—Despite the "purging of deadwood" from the voters' list, and absence of door-to-door enumerators, the list reached a total of 20,536 in Courtenay, compared to 20,395 last year.

SIDNEY—Future of the Memorial Park here and the annual Sidney Day will be decided tonight at a special meeting of Sidney and North Saanich War Memorial Park Board in Sidney Elementary School.

SIDNEY—A committee headed by G. L. Chatterton will meet Monday afternoon with principals of schools in School District 63 to determine the location and extent of new accommodation required by schools in the district.

Following investigation, the school board will consider preparation of a by-law, possibly for presentation to ratepayers in September.

GANGES—New members added to the board of Lady Minto Gulf Islands Hospital at the board's annual meeting were Howard "Chalk" George Heineke, Mrs. Alexander McManus and Mrs. R. T. Meyer.

PRESTON—On the board of Mrs. Warren Hastings, chairman; W. M. Mout, Mrs. A. E. Scoones, Mrs. Austin Wells, Dr. L. White, Reginald Price and T. F. Speed.

CAMPBELL RIVER—Local Liberal Association has announced that Arthur Laing, party leader, will make an address at a luncheon meeting May 26, at 12:30 p.m., at the Legion Hall here.

James Sinclair, federal minister of fisheries, will speak in support of the Liberal party Monday at the Native Sons' Hall in Courtenay.

CAMPBELL RIVER—Adam Schek, 48, of Black Creek, is in fair condition at Lourdes Hospital undergoing treatment for burns received at the Elk Falls paper mill at Duncan Bay. Schek was severely scalded in the steam plant Tuesday evening. His eyeglasses saved his eyes, but he was badly injured about the face, shoulder and leg.

PORT ALBERNI—Mayor Loran K. Jordan denied the city's responsibility to pay an additional $5,400 as the balance of its share in building and equipping the new 111-bed West Coast General Hospital. The sum represents the difference between the par value of bonds issued for the purpose and the actual sale price, less a contribution promised by MacMillan & Bioedel Ltd.

PARKSVILLE—Percy Rush-ton, 73, native of England and garage operator here for many years, died immediately following the launching of his boat at the French Creek boat basin.

LANGFORD—Representatives from Metchosin, Colwood, Luxton, Glen Lake, Belmont, and Langford attended a meeting of Belmont Red Cross unit Wednesday night to lay plans for the blood donor clinic to be held at Colwood Hall June 3.

Mrs. V. Thistle of the Victoria Transfusion Service listed help required for the one-day clinic, with an objective of 250 pints. Transportation will be provided for donors.

$33 H.I.S. Premiums Seen by CCF Party Candidate

A promise that a CCF government would roll back hospital insurance premiums to $33 for families and $21 for single persons, would wipe out co-insurance, and exempt low-income groups from payment was made by Frank Mitchell, CCF candidate in Esquimalt, at a Mill Bay meeting Wednesday.

Mr. Mitchell said the Social Credit government had shown a "callous disregard for the people's welfare" in its handling of hospital insurance.

Speaking with Mr. Mitchell were Ronald Riley, CCF provincial organizer, and Mrs. Violet Rayment.

Bonner Will Open Legion Conference

Attorney-General R. W. Bonner will open the provincial convention of the British Columbia Command, Canadian Legion, which runs or three days in Nanaimo starting Sunday.

Opening ceremonies will be held in the Capitol Theatre at 8 p.m. Sunday with the business sessions to commence Monday at 9:30 a.m.

Cost of Coffee Down Two Cents Per Pound

Wholesale price of coffee dropped two cents a pound in Victoria Wednesday.

The price cut, a wholesale spokesman said, will be passed along to consumers, bringing the retail price of popular brands to $1 a pound.

President of Farmers' Union Says Wheat Hike Too Little

EDMONTON (CP)—The increase in the price of domestic wheat from $1.86 to $2.05 a bushel is most welcome to western farmers, but is another case of "too little and too late," president Henry Young of the Farmers' Union of Alberta says.

Announcement of the increase was made in Winnipeg Tuesday by the Canadian wheat board.

Young Wednesday said conditions have justified a domestic price of at least $2.20 a bushel for the last three years. Western farmers have subsidized Canadian consumers by more than $75,000,000 during that period.

He protested against suggestions that bread prices be increased one cent a loaf and gave the following reasons:

1. At present wheat prices there is only about 34 cents worth of wheat in each loaf of bread.

2. It takes an increase of about 50 cents a bushel to justify an increase of one cent a loaf.

3. The increase of 19 cents a bushel together with the six-cent increase in 1951, means a total increase of only 25 cents a bushel in the last four years; and

4. During this period there were two price increases of one cent in the price of bread, or two cents a loaf in all.

SEEDING ADVANCED
EDMONTON (CP)—Seeding is "well advanced" in most southern districts but in some Alberta areas it is not expected that seeding can become general until toward the end of the week, the agriculture department said in a crop report Wednesday.

At Drumheller, some farmers have most of their wheat sown and at Hardisty seeding of wheat should be completed by this week-end.

NEW THEATRE

EDMONTON (CP)—Construction will start within the next few weeks on a new Odeon theatre on Jasper Avenue in downtown Edmonton. Harry A. Friedman of Toronto, president of Odeon Mid-Western Theatres Ltd., said Wednesday it will seat 1,100 persons. The theatre will cost an estimated $200,000.

LIBRARIANS PROTEST

EDMONTON (CP)—A protest against the government action of not appointing a provincial library supervisor was made Wednesday at the annual meeting of the Alberta Library Association by president Alma Webster.

Miss Webster said the government agreed prior to the last legislative session to appoint a supervisor, but had not done so.

CUTS VISIT SHORT

CALGARY (CP)—Governor-General Vincent Massey left abruptly for Ottawa Wednesday night, cutting short a visit to southern Alberta.

Mr. Massey was scheduled to visit Ralston and the Dominion experimental station at Suffield 30 miles west of Medicine Hat, but flew home instead.

CAR THIEF SENTENCED

MINNEDOSA, Man. (CP)—A three-hour search involving almost half the people in this town 125 miles northwest of Winnipeg resulted in the capture of a car thief as he helped hunt for himself Wednesday.

Alex Johnson, 28, of Birtle, Man., was sentenced to three months at hard labor after he pleaded guilty to taking a car without the owner's consent. He was released Tuesday after serving a six-month term for breaking, entering and theft.

MINERS SIGN AGREEMENT

CALGARY (CP)—Acceptance of all major points in a recent arbitration board award, recommending no wage increase to Alberta miners, formed the basis of a one-year agreement signed Wednesday by the United Mine Workers of America, district 18, and the Coal Operators' Association of Western Canada.

In a joint statement the operators and union said the new agreement provides that operators increase their contributions to the welfare fund by five cents a ton and a new holiday with pay agreement based on employees' earnings. Approximately 6,200 men employed by 19 companies are affected. Agreement on the wages affects most mines in Alberta and some in the southeast part of British Columbia.

WHY SOCREDS WON

No More Patronage Tisdalle Promises

John Tisdalle, Social Credit candidate in Saanich, said Wednesday night he believed patronage under old-line party administration was one of the principal reasons Socreds came to power in B.C. last year.

The candidate acknowledged he had no personal knowledge of favoritism being played to advantage in this province, but said he knew such was the case on higher government level.

"I have friends who boast about their acquaintances in government who can do little things for them," he told his audience of 26 at Lake Hill Hall. "But Social Credit has no time for patronage; no time for avenues of scheming."

"I'm not a high-pressure salesman. If a thing is worth selling, there's no need for that. Social Credit speaks for itself."

He urged his audience to "think, eat, talk and live Social Credit."

Percy Wright, a Socred candidate in Victoria, staunchly defended the Rolston Formula upon which the Bennett government was defeated.

"For more than 30 years, the old-line parties have been bleeding the municipalities," Mr. Wright asserted. "And just as they were about to receive their first transfusion, the opposition broke the needle."

"The Rolston Formula," he maintained, "was the first real attempt to help the municipalities out of their financial difficulties."

"I would say that those who attack the Rolston Formula should explain why they did not help the municipalities in the past. The Liberals had plenty of opportunity to help, but they waited until the eve of an election to come up with something—a forlorn hope."

"In the last 25 to 30 years, provincial governments have successively been short-changing the municipalities all down the line," he said.

Planes Attack Behind Lines

SEOUL (AP).—Four unidentified planes dropped bombs and strafed a bridge behind Allied lines Wednesday. The Eighth Army announced. Nine UN soldiers were killed or wounded. The brief announcement did not give the nationality of the casualties.

Barbara Brent's BUYS AND WHYS

MONTREAL, May 21st—Here's a brand new taste treat. It's the NEW INSTANT CHASE & SANBORN COFFEE. What's new about it? The very thing that makes it so completely good... it's 100% real coffee. You see, it's made by a new "Natural Flavour" process that keeps the flavour and aroma—yes, the very colour and texture of freshly ground coffee. And talk about magic! New Instant Chase & Sanborn dissolves like a flash in hot or cold water. Incidentally, it's wonderfully economical. Saves me up to 40¢ a pound compared with regular coffee. Once you've tried it, you'll want to make it your regular coffee.

Want to Know How to Make a Better Lemon Pie? The secret is to use the finest, juiciest lemons to be had. And that means SUNKIST LEMONS. What's more, use more of the lemon juice—peel, pulp—all added just before baking. The result is a tangy, fresh lemon flavour that's out of this world! SUNKIST LEMON-MERINGUE PIE
 2 cups sugar 2 egg yolks
 1 cup water 2 tablespoons milk
 2 tablespoons cornstarch 1 teaspoon salt
 3 tablespoons water
 Mix sugar, butter and 1 cup water; bring to boil. Lower heat. Add mixture of cornstarch and 2 tablespoons water. Cook until thick, stirring constantly. Beat egg yolks, milk and salt; add to mixture, cook over medium heat until thick, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Grate peel from 1 lemon. Squeeze lemons. Scrape pulp from juicer. Add peel, pulp and juice (1½ cups) to filling. Cool. Pour into 8" pie shell. Top with Sunkist Meringue. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg.) until golden brown (15 to 20 minutes).

It's Simple Arithmetic to figure out how much time and money BVD NYLON TRICOT SHIRTS can save you. Made of good-looking nylon tricot that "breathes" for cool comfort in warm weather... with fused collars and cuffs that never wilt—BVD Nylon Shirts need no ironing. Just think! It takes me almost 15 minutes to iron a shirt. 15 minutes multiplied by 7 to 10 shirts a week equals almost 2 shirt-ironing hours a week. Then there's the money saved. If the laundry price for a shirt is about 20¢—your husband's $12.95 BVD Nylon Shirt is paid for in 65 days—with most of its life ahead of it! Yes, the BVD Nylon Shirt (in grey, blue, tan or white) is a "bargain" you can't afford to miss.

Before And After A Party... my favourite housecleaning "help" is SOS—I've been using SOS Scouring Pads on my pots and pans for years, of course. And now I've discovered that they're every bit as effective in all kinds of housecleaning jobs... cleaning old wax off floors—cleaning rust off the stove and stains off the kitchen linoleum. Actually, it's no wonder SOS Scouring Pads do such a good job of so many jobs. They're an inspired combination of sturdy, interwoven fibres and grease-dissolving soap. I know you'll agree they work wonders. Just try them!

Hurry! Hurry! Hurry! I'm Sounding Like A "Sideshow Barker" because I don't want you to miss the important Food Festival now at your grocer's. It's HEINZ BIG VALUE FAIR... wonderful values! Now's the time to discover new Heinz taste treats and stock up on the old favourites. Start with Heinz Tomato Juice and Condensed Soups... the perfect beginning for any meal. Take home plenty of Heinz Oven-Baked Beans, Cooked Spaghetti and Macaroni. And—mmm-mm!—you'll want a real supply of Heinz Tomato Ketchup, Chili Sauce and Pickles. Remember baby, too! Be sure to get a good supply of Heinz Baby Cereals, Strained Baby Foods or Junior Foods. They're made for tots and toddlers.

When I See Folks Bright And Cheery In The Morning, I'm willing to bet that they've had a good breakfast—a hot "CREAM OF WHEAT" breakfast! Ever tried piping hot "Cream of Wheat" topped with strawberry jam? It's the cheeriest way I know to start a day. And so easy, too. You see, Quick "Cream of Wheat" takes only five minutes of boiling to cook to perfect smoothness. What's more, it's good for you. It contains iron for good red blood and calcium and phosphorus for diets deficient in these elements. So give your whole family—youngsters and grown-ups, too, a good start—a quick start for the day. Treat them all to their favourite... hot "Cream of Wheat".

You Can Win Cash Prizes Up To $500 Plus World-Famous McBride "Comet" Aeropacks and Northern Electric "Sportsman" AC-DC Portable Radios every week. Just enter Blue Bonnet Sue's HAPPY HOLIDAY CONTEST this week—every week—as often as you like until the end of the contest on July 11th. ## IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

The tennis masters met and the lord-and-master won. It's always a great thrill to see a sport champion in action and Jack Kramer and Frank Sedgman are no exceptions, as they proved to Victorians Wednesday night.

Kramer, the "all-American boy," as he has been dubbed since he came out of Montebello, Calif., as a crew-cut youth of 19 to gain a place on the U. S. Davis Cup team, plainly outstepped his brilliant Australian opponent.

Sedgman had the big game to match Kramer, but Kramer, the strategist of consistency, had the savvy.

It shouldn't and wouldn't be fair to the principals to say that Pancho Segura, the spindly-legged, pigeon-footed refugee from a once obscure club in Ecuador, stole the show. But the colorful little guy who developed his two-handed stroke because as a youth he was too weak to handle the racket adequately with one hand, certainly made himself the darling of the crowd.

Ken McGregor, the handsome and emotional Aussie, was a slight disappointment. He played as if he had made a mistake, not in the judgment of his talents which potentially are hidden behind his seemingly indifferent approach, but in his future.

Pro tennis, it seems, holds little lure for the former Australian champion now that he's about completed the circuit. Asked what he would do when the present junket became only a memory, he replied:

"I intend to go back to Australia, settle down and lead a normal life."

Just what that life implies in a tennis way is difficult to understand as apparently the Australian powers that rule amateur tennis don't look kindly on competitive pro tennis as a summer pastime.

The present pro tour was, for a time, balked in attempts to get suitable dates for their show in Australia as the loss of Sedgman and McGregor obviously rankled those who prize the Davis Cup above all else.

Still, Sedgman, McGregor and company will get their chance to play before their former worshippers, but not until February, the poorest season of the year for the game.

Amateur Tennis Not Really Amateur

What's the difference between amateur tennis and pro tennis?

That's easy, says Sedgman. "In amateur tennis you get the big matches only in the semifinals and the finals. In pro tennis, it's every night."

Not unduly worried over the fact that Kramer has retained his mythical pro championship, Sedgman feels that his game is on a par with Kramer's and he's definitely interested in a competitive future.

What he would really like to see is "open" competition, such as in golf, with the top amateurs engaging in tournaments with the pros. Although neither he nor Kramer see the likelihood of such a possibility in the near future because of the wide variance in opinion among various governing bodies in amateur tennis, he feels the sport couldn't help but benefit.

"Amateur tennis isn't really amateur tennis," he explained, "what with the various methods of paying and determining expenses . . . and other items; it's practically on a professional basis now."

Kramer Stood to Lose, But Didn't

But here the authorities don't agree. And it probably helps to explain why such a rapport exists, both in amateur tennis itself and between the amateur and professional variety.

When Sedgman and his lovely wife received a $12,300 cash gift from the tennis fans of Australia as a wedding present, an international furor was created. It was perfectly legal in Australia, but the greenbacks were of a different color in the U. S. The reverse could probably be said in Australia in respect to concessions granted U.S. amateurs if the truth were out.

Still, when all results are tabulated, the accolade for perfection must go to Kramer. The big fellow tossed a hunk of cash estimated at $250,000 into this year's venture and, for the fourth straight time, emerged as champion both in prestige and monetary gain.

"Big names?" Kramer admits that "big names" are needed to make a tour of this nature the success it has been. But, too, he sees in Sedgman the foothold that pro tennis might just need to make it an established and paying sport for those who like pay income tax on their tennis earnings.

Champions all, Victoria was privileged to be your host for a day.

Irish Internationals Blank Toronto Stars

TORONTO (BUP)—The touring Irish Internationals headed for the western provinces today after blanking the cream of Ontario's soccer players, 2-0, before 5,600 fans.

The auld sodders ranked Vancouver as the toughest competition ahead of them. They play in Victoria June 2.

Toronto, considered the strongest Canadian all-star team, worked through the Irish defenses several times Wednesday night but no miraculous saves by goalie Norman Uprichart of Portsmouth kept them off the scoreboard.

Jimmy Scott, outstanding forward for Manchester United, scored the Internationals' first goal at the 23-minute mark of the first half on a pass from Jimmy D'Arcy.

Centre Sammy Hughes, Glenloran, booted in the other tally from 10 feet out at seven minutes of the second half.

The Internationals will return here June 13 to meet Liverpool in Varsity Stadium.

AGAR TO VERNON

VERNON (CP) — The Vernon Hockey Club announced Wednesday that George Agar, former captain of the Western Hockey League Calgary Stampede, has been signed as coach of Vernon Canadians.

U.S. Still May Be 10 Years Away From Davis Cup, Say Aussie Stars

By DENNY BOYD

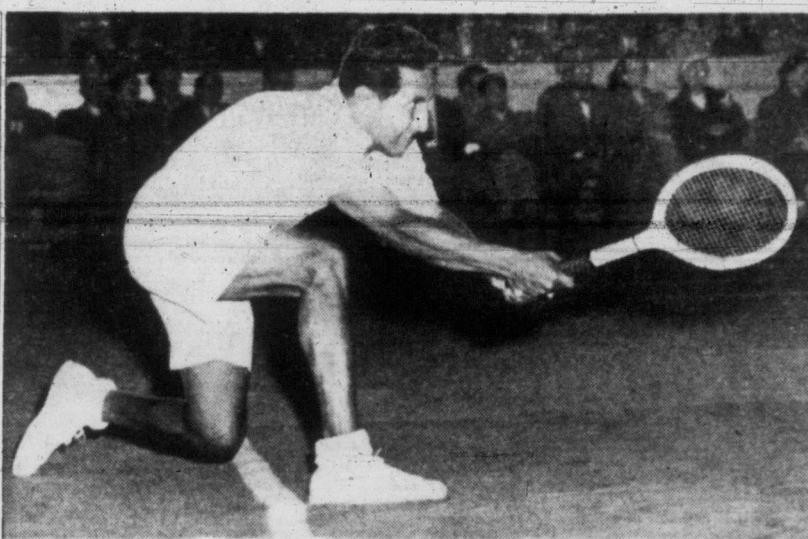

This could be one of the most crucial years in Davis Cup tennis history for the United States and Australia, according to Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor, a pair of net masters well qualified on the subject.

Giving an informal chat on tennis to a student assembly at Victoria High School Wednesday, the personable

Aussies commented that if the U.S. does not win the Davis Cup this year, it will take them another 10 years to win the coveted bauble.

Stocky Sedgman and rangy McGregor, who had complete mastery over Davis Cup doubles while amateurs, said that a pair of 18-year-olds hold the key to Australia's amateur future.

Ken Rosewall and Lewis Hoad, Australian champions,

Pancho Shows Famed Forehand

Ecuador's contribution to the professional tennis ranks, colorful Pancho Segura, showed a crowd of 2,200 Wednesday night just how he has maintained his mastery over Australia's Ken McGregor in the current pro tennis tour. Using his famous two-handed forehand, Segura downed McGregor in straight sets, 6-1, 6-3.

Spokes Spike Tyees

May continued to be a murderous month for the Victoria Tyees Wednesday night as they lost their second straight game to the Spokane Indians in Spokane, 6-3.

The defeat dropped the defending champion Tyees into a tie for fifth place, six games behind league-leading Lewiston. Tyee manager Cec Garriott juggled his line-up, putting relief pitcher Mike Williams in left field and benching Nap Gulye and sending Don Pries to second base in place of Lou Brannan. Herman Charles took over at third base.

The game was over in a hurry as far as Tyees were concerned, Spokane scoring three times in the first inning on a single, two doubles, an infield out and an outfield fly. The Spokes added one in the second on a wild throw by Charles.

Pries dropped a fly ball in the seventh, giving Spokane two unearned runs.

DRILLING LOSER

Bob Drilling started for the Tyees and gave up four runs, three of them being the only earned runs scored by Spokane in the game.

Tyees scored once in the fourth on Garriott's single and a long triple by Chuck Abernathy and twice in the fifth on a two-run single by Pries. Failure to hunt and hit with men on bases cost the Tyees scoring chances as did three errors.

Winning pitcher was former Victorian Art Worth who came on in the fifth to relieve starter Bob Nemes.

Little League Practices

A series of practices for Little League farm teams to enable managers to select their squads have been arranged by league officials.

Schedule of practices to be held at Little League Park follows: Rotary, Thursday, 6:30; North Kiwanis, Friday, 6:30; Gyro, Saturday, 9:30 a.m.; Odd Fellows, Saturday, 1:30 p.m.

Rather Chilly for May

When you come from Los Angeles, as does Jack Kramer, left, or from Australia, as does Frank Sedgman, Victoria's climate may seem a little chilly, even in May. Kramer and Sedgman, two of the greatest tennis players in the world, were found jogging in the dressing room of Memorial Arena to keep warm prior to their professional tennis exhibition Wednesday night. However, there was nothing coolish about them on the court as Kramer downed his rival 3-6, 6-3, 6-2. (Times photo by Bill Halkett.)

Farmers in Fourth Senior Ball Victory

Farmer Construction of the Senior Amateur Baseball League can be likened to the New York Yankees in the respect that they come up with at least one big inning a game.

Wednesday night at Royal Athletic Park, Farmers, capitalizing on four errors, broke up a close contest with a five-run spurge in the fourth frame and went on to defeat Orphans, 10-1. It was their fourth win in as many games.

In the four contests Farmers have played to date they have had four innings in which they crossed the plate four times, as well as two five-run frames.

Orphans took the lead, scoring four runs in the first inning before righthander Eddie Corbett came in on relief and shut the door. Corbett faced only 18 batters in five and two-thirds innings, striking out five.

Don Donahue started for Farmers and gave up three walks while striking out one before being pulled in favor of Corbett.

George, making his first start, turned in a creditable showing for the losers.

Jack, Pancho Too Wise for Aussies

Tennis Fans Thrilled by Pro Display

After a gruelling and exacting 2½ hours of top-grade tennis, the American team of Jack Kramer and Pancho Segura ended up with full honors over their youthful Aussie opponents, Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor, at the Memorial Arena Wednesday night.

In battles between youth and experience, the Aussies, on their first tour, came close to upsetting the powerful Americans, but found that experience is a tough barrier to hurdle.

In the first match McGregor was well beaten, 6-1, 6-3, by Segura, whose double-handed forehand stroke and perfect timing kept the Aussie youngster guessing and usually wrongly in the brief 35-minute battle.

McGregor did display excellent courtmanship, however, and used his two-handed forehand to advantage but the cunning Pancho, with a variety of lobs and smashes, easily offset this apparent strong point in McGregor's game.

The feature presentation between Sedgman and Kramer will be tennis tattle in Victoria clubs for many years.

Although Kramer lost the first set, 3-6, he exploited his world famous forehand drive to the limit in the next two sets to down Sedgman, 6-3 and 6-2. Here again was the story of youth versus experience. Kramer made no double faults and four times out of five got his first service away.

GREAT TACTICIAN

As a tactician he must be one of the best, winning, as he did, many of his points on positional play. Sedgman's backhand volley and Kramer's forehand volley provided the crowd with some seat-gripping moments.

Sedgman's blinding serve was a bit shaky throughout, registering numerous double faults.

On several occasions he had Kramer on the run but failed to take advantage of his opponent's mistakes. Kramer's matchless defensive volleys, half volleys and lobs found the youngster in quite deep water but he gave a creditable account of himself.

In the doubles contest the U.S. team won both sets—7-5 and 9-7. Every shot in the book, and many that weren't provided a thrilling contest with no quarter being given by either side.

SEGURA AGAIN

The colorful Segura continued to take point after point with his devastating two-handed forehand drive and Kramer's drop shots and chop shots repeatedly found the Australian team out of position. McGregor's blistering serve and Sedgman's backhand volley gave the American duo the most trouble, but once again their faultless timing and precision play ran the Australian team off its feet.

Lindsay Meets Faieta in Mat Feature

Powerful Luther Lindsay will match his massive muscles against Gypsy Moe Faieta's bushy coiffure in the main event of tonight's four-bout wrestling card at Memorial Arena.

Lindsay, the huge negro grappler, is no stranger here but Faieta, who affects a wild mop of hair and earrings, is a newcomer.

Jack Kaiser and Walter Kammeroff tangled in the semi-main, while Philipino Ray Urbana will make his first local appearance in the special event, trading wits and wiles with Danno McDonald.

The curtain-raiser, at 8:30, matches Claire Robinson, still another newcomer to local fans, with Bud Rutland.

BCE Net Opening

The B.C. Electric Tennis Club is scheduled to officially open Saturday afternoon, and members and their friends are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Braves Already Top '52 Boston Fan Mark

MILWAUKEE (BUP) — Lou Perini, president of the Milwaukee Braves, predicts more than 1,000,000 attendance for the Braves who already have drawn more fans in 13 home dates here than they did for the entire 1952 season in Boston.

"I am convinced the enthusiasm of the fans will last all season," Perini said after the Braves hit a home attendance mark of 302,667 Wednesday. They drew only 281,278 in Boston last year.

"We not only will have more than 1,000,000 paid admissions this year," he continued, "but we'll have the biggest home at

As Another Track Record Falls

Athletes from city high schools continued to assault the record books Wednesday in the seventh annual Inter-High School track and field championships at the Vic High track. Vic High's Connie Sampson shattered the junior girls' broad jump standard with a prodigious leap of 16 feet 4¼ inches. The former record was 15 feet 4 inches. Finals in track events will be held Friday. (Times photo.)

Powerful Burnaby Enters B.C. Meet

Ratings for the B.C. inter-high school track and field championships, to be held at Victoria High School May 29 and 30, changed abruptly Wednesday when powerful South Burnaby High of Vancouver entered the competition.

STEWART TO PLAY OC SOCCER

VANCOUVER (CP) — Gordon Goggin Stewart, classy inside forward of New Westminster Royals of the Pacific Coast Soccer League, will get his chance this fall.

He leaves here in July for a trial with Everton, the famed first division club in the English Football League.

Stewart, who started his soccer career at the age of 14, is one of the most brilliant native-born Vancouver players ever developed here.

He was with Vancouver City in 1950-51 when the club captured the Dominion title, and has been a member of many all-star teams. He sails for Liverpool July 18.

Connie Sampson marked up 16 feet 4¼ inches in the junior girls' broad jump, bettering Virginia Barry's former record by 12¼ inches.

Vic High now leads the point parade with 54, followed by Esquimalt, 31; Mount View, 28; Oak Bay, 26 and Mount Douglas, 16.

The Greater Victoria Inter-High Trophy, which is decided by handicap based on school enrollment, is now led by Esquimalt with 62 points; Victoria High, 54; Mount View, 37.13; Oak Bay, 34.23; Mount Douglas, 16.

INTERCITY BOXLA REFS MAY BOYCOTT NANAIMO

VANCOUVER (CP)—Referees in the Intercity Lacrosse League plan to stay clear of Nanaimo on Saturday, when Nanaimo Native Sons meet Vancouver Pilseners. The referees told commission secretary Tommy Gordon that they will not make the trip to the Island city.

The decision to stay home follows Tuesday night's tussle in which blood flowed in a game marked by four fights.

Bill Dickinson, who was one of the officials, and rookie ref Stan Young, both decided to stay away from Nanaimo. They look for a rough game Saturday and said Nanaimo does not afford sufficient police protection.

have developed tremendously, it was explained, and these youngsters could conceivably dominate the Davis Cup scene for the next 10 years as the U.S. has no players of a comparable age and skill.

McGregor and Sedgman agreed that America's Vic Seixas, Tony Trabert and Art Larsen are slightly past their prime and represent the last stage of a strong era in American tennis.

Rosewell beat Seixas in one of last year's major Australian tournaments, becoming the youngest player in history to win that particular title.

Forgetting their natural shyness as they warmed to their subject, Sedgman and McGregor demonstrated grips for serves, backhands and forehands, and said that the three most important factors in developing into championship calibre are footwork, concentration and the will to win.

McGregor pointed out that while there are standard grips, stances and shots, each champion has some individual personal touch, gained by constant experimentation.

Lefty Cecil Butt and John Baloich shared mound duties for the losers. Butt came on in relief in the fourth with one out and the bases filled. The two pitchers struck out four batters each.

Barry Harvey had two singles for Rotary and Bob Martin, Ricky Watson and Bruce Simpson had one blow each.

Three Other Parties

Do FALSE TEETH Fear CCF Is Claim

Rock, Slide or Slip?
FASSTER is an improved powder to be sprinkled on upper or lower plates, bridge, false teeth, more "firmly" in place. Do not slide, slip or rock. No gummy, sticky, pasty taste or feeling. FASSTER is alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASSTER at any drug store.

The three opposing parties to the CCF admit that the current election battle is a fight between socialism and free enterprise, said Oak Bay CCF candidate, Fred Bevis Wednesday night in the Cadboro Bay Scout Hall.

He pointed to this admission as a healthy sign for his party. He said the other parties fear the CCF as they never did in previous elections.

He pointed to the fact that the CCF "commands a larger number of votes than any other party" and at the same time lamented the nervousness of many of the electors who though they vote CCF, hesitate to sign nomination papers or attend meetings.

He called such a fear of standing up for what a person believes, a "product of capitalism."

He said that many people still believe that their jobs would be in jeopardy if they were to admit allegiance to a socialist party in spite of the voting majority.

"Quite a large CCF vote" was recorded at Cadboro Bay last year, he said, urging formation of a CCF group there.

Speaking in support of Mr. Bevis was CCF Victoria candidate, Colin Cameron.

Mr. Cameron argued that Social Credit claims of having reduced the public debt in this province were unjustified. He said the debt was reduced by the automatic redemption of 20-year-old bonds, "thanks to the workings of the calendar rather than the Sacreds."

He struck out at the Social pay-as-you-go policy, saying that he did not believe a generation should have to pay cash for improvements to the province that would only be enjoyed by future generations.

He added that he suspects a deliberate attempt to sabotage the BCHS by the Social Credit party "either that or they are inept and confused."

NEW LIFE FOR "LEFT-OVERS"!

Wear food budgets need help these days. Let Minute Rice flatter left-over meat, fish and fowl in tempting main course dishes like this.

Minute Rice is so versatile, too — it's grand served with favorite stews, in curries, or with creamed dishes. You'll love it, in quickly made creamy rice puddings. It's the only rice of its kind.

Pre-cooked Minute Rice needs no washing, no rinsing, no draining, no steaming... always cooks to tender perfection, with each grain plump, fluffy and separate.

Supper "Quickie"

FOR RICE RING: Prepare 1 pkg. Minute Rice according to basic package directions. Add 2 tbsps. butter and ¼ tsp. pepper to the rice, mix lightly.

FOR FILLING: Sauté ½ cup onion rings until tender in 4 tbsps. fat in saucepan. Add 4 tbsps. fat. Blend. Then add 2 cups water gradually. Bring to boil, stirring constantly. Add 2 cups diced, cooked left-over meat. Season. Fill centre of rice ring with meat mixture. Serve 5 to 6.

COMPARE!

ELIZABETH the Queen

By Marion Crawford
Former Governor to Her Majesty

The intimate biography of Queen Elizabeth, written by her good friend and former governess Marion Crawford, appears exclusively in the Victoria Daily Times in 25 chapters. Out of her 17 years of close association with the royal family "Crawford" has previously published "The Little Princess" and "Mother and Queen: The Story of Queen Mary."

XV.
There is a great deal of organization needed for a Royal visit. There is tremendous advance excitement and detailed preparation. All the local dignitaries get-out their robes or have their best suits pressed. Their wives are thrown into a frenzy of ironing and other activity.

Those responsible for the ceremonies of the occasion are busy too. Precedence of presentation to Royalty is a matter of great importance to them.

If the Princess was to arrive by train there was an official welcome to prepare, police arrangements to be made at the station, and then the planning of a day packed with visits, speeches and drives.

This was the day of days for the town and its citizens; but for the Princess this was her life, day after day. She can look forward to a future of similar functions; the trip by train or car; the loyal speech of welcome; her gracious reply—everything falling into a set and familiar pattern. Local newspapers filled their columns with descriptions of her smile, her voice, the names of people who had been presented to her, the decorations in the streets, the crowds.

For every one of the many thousands who flock to see her the visit of a Queen is a great occasion.

Unforgettable for them! But what of her, who must be somewhere else tomorrow, walking the aisles of another cathedral, listening to the Dean's reminiscences, inspecting more walls filled with paintings, and making bright and memorable remarks about them?

MEMORIES
Surely the wonder is that she remembers any of the hundreds of people she meets in a week of such visits.

But she does remember. To keep names and faces in her mind is part of her task. And her memory starts working even before she comes to a place.

This may be her first visit to the town, but she knows that her father or her grandfather visited it long ago. Perhaps he received a gold casket or some other memento.

Memento is for memory, and Queen Elizabeth is careful to recall the gift in reply to the Lord Mayor's loyal address. She knows his name and the names of other local notabilities who may be presented to her. And she will recall their names and faces if ever they come before her again.

No one who has seen her on one of these visits has felt for a moment that it was just routine for her. Because it was not so, really. It was meeting people—and she likes people.

I have seen her stand for hours at the window of her apartment in Buckingham Palace from which she could see, through the lace curtains, Big Ben's face and look right down the Mall to the Admiralty Arch. Then she would look down to the scattered sightseers in front of the Palace gates. They would look up, asking one another which room is the King's, where the Throne room is, trying to imagine what is behind each window.

PRINCESS WONDERS
They little thought that at the same time a Royal Princess was wondering about them!

It was the same in Canada, where Princess Elizabeth was undertaking the first State visit of her career, as the representative of her father.

To the King and Queen at home the daily news of the progress of their daughter's tour of the Dominion must have recalled vivid memories of their own visit to Canada and the United States in the summer of July, 1939.

Queen Elizabeth knew for 15 years the dignity and responsibility that the Heir to the Throne must carry.

Although she could not have realized then all that the change would mean to her, she certainly did know that in leaving the old home at 145 Piccadilly, after the Abdication, she would be leaving some of her childhood behind.

She was no plaster saint, but always a human little person—sometimes quick-tempered and inclined to be a little overcritical. The curious thing, however, was that she was quick to see her own faults when they were pointed out to her, and eager to correct them.

Seeing her so perfectly dressed, whether for a military parade or for a garden party, it seemed strange to me to recall that in her teens she was never particularly concerned about her appearance. But since wearing the right things at the right times was a duty, she conformed without demur.

At one time she had a great deal of fun experimenting with various styles of make-up. One day she came down with a vivid splash of crimson caked round her lips. This apparition in sober surroundings of our schoolroom at Windsor Castle was as startling a splash of red as a poppy in the snow.

She saw me looking rather dubiously at her. "Crawford," she exclaimed, "what is the matter with you this morning? Why have you been staring at me?"

Victoria Daily Times THURSDAY, MAY 21, 1953 11

"It's your mouth," I said firmly. "You look as if you'd dipped it into a pot of plum jam. It doesn't go with your coloring at all. You need a light cherry lipstick." Nothing more was said. She did not wipe the paint off at once, but before the end of the morning the smear had become a little less obvious.

Queen Witnesses Rehearsal of Coronation

LONDON. (Reuters) — The Queen Wednesday watched her attractive 37-year-old stand-in, the Duchess of Norfolk, rehearse the Coronation Ceremony, with the Duke of Edinburgh.

Elizabeth's husband knelt before the Duchess and with his hands between hers, swore to be "her liege man of life and limb."

The Queen stood silently under the towering gothic columns of Westminster Abbey to witness the rehearsal.

It was a different picture from the one 7,000 abbey guests will see in 13 days when the real service takes place. The golden carpet of the Coronation theatre was laid; and the throne was in position. But the 31-year-old Duke was dressed in a black, pin-stripe suit instead of the velvet robe he will wear June 2.

The Queen—watching by the side of the Earl Marshal, the Duke of Norfolk, who is supervising abbey rehearsals daily—wore an open duster coat of navy blue and a tight-fitting hat of white straw.

Maise Ringham and her trombone.

Widely Traveled Musician To Be Heard in City Monday

England's only professional lady symphony trombone player, Maise Ringham who plays under Sir John Barbirolli, will be heard in Victoria Monday night.

She will appear in a concert at the Salvation Army Citadel on Pandora Avenue.

Miss Ringham has been principal trombonist in the famed Halle's orchestra for five years.

She has toured Austria, Belgium, Holland and Portugal with the orchestra and will visit Rhodesia in June.

She took up the trombone at 11, was awarded a scholarship at Trinity College of Music.

After winning honors at the Royal Manchester College of Music she played with a ladies' orchestra and was later in the BBC Midland Light Orchestra for 18 months.

Accompanist Marjorie Brown will assist in the program. Miss Brown holds a teacher's diploma from the Royal Manchester College of Music.

Rites and ceremonies of the British Coronation are substantially the same as in the early 14th century.

Bumper Crop Sought, But Seeding Delayed

OTTAWA (CP)—Farmers are gunning for another bumper wheat crop this year, but they'll have to put up a strong fight against time and the weather to match last year's 688,000,000 bushel golden harvest.

As an initial stroke, they've mapped out plans to sow 25,891,400 acres to wheat, just a shade off last year's 25,995,000, the bureau of statistics reported Wednesday.

But they're way behind in their seeding—delayed by untimely rain and snow. Up until April 30 they had planted only a small fraction of total planned acreage.

In Manitoba only 21 per cent of the total intended acreage had been seeded, compared with 68 per cent last year. Saskatchewan reported only 4 per cent, compared with 27 per cent a year ago, while Alberta reported less than 1 per cent, compared with 16.

However, officials said that with good weather, the mechanized farmer will have little trouble catching up in his seeding.

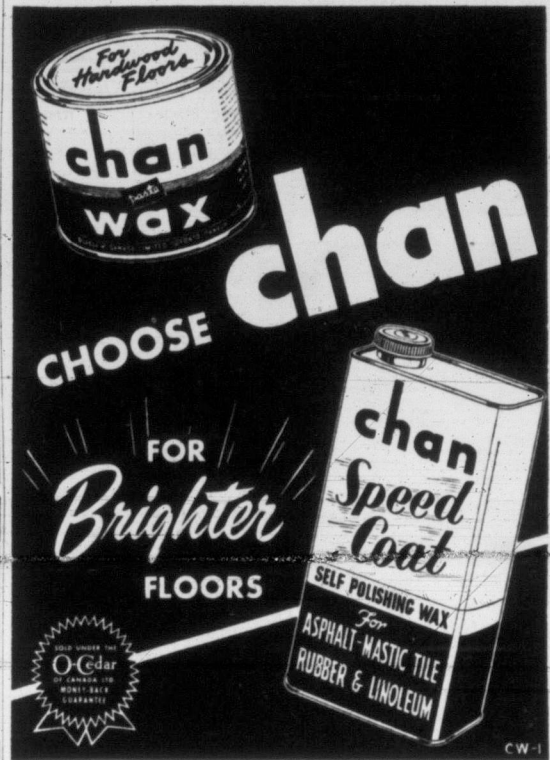

What may add a little zest to his incentive is the wheat board's announcement of a boost in the domestic price of wheat to $2.05 a bushel from $1.85.

Soil moisture is reported to be good, another advantage to the farmer. But if he continues to be held up by bad weather, he may end up with sowing more acreage to coarse grains.

COMMENTS:

- CLUES ACROSS
8. DEFEAT is best. The clue says "big." If there's a DEFEAT, minor repairs or adjustments are all that is necessary. DEFEAT is a word for something big.
13. BAKERS is best. It is the bread and gain a reputation. A BAKERY is strictly speaking is just the building and the average person is quite indifferent to it.
15. FURIOUS is best. The clue specifies "possibly." The side CERTAIN to be CURIOUS. No POSSIBILITY about it, she may be FURIOUS but not necessarily.
18. PAME is best. Not all film stars have beautiful PAGES by any means.
21. TOPIC is best. A man won't necessarily know how a TONIC suits him until he has taken it.
22. HILLS is best. It is impressive merely by their size but HILLS need other attributes such as design, architectural beauty, etc. HILLS is not good.
23. WRENCH is best. It is better suited to the idea of something that is used at times in certain jobs since so many residents of Canada speak FRENCH. A wrench is a tool used in connection with their occupation.
24. WEED is best. Miss a WEEK in an otherwise carefully tended garden, and no work is likely to result which wouldn't have had to have been done ANYWAY. Miss a WEEK and it may be spreading or seeding, make more work for you later.
- CLUES DOWN
1. FEARFUL is best. The clue says "often." A child is ALMOST INVARIABLY FEARFUL. OFTEN means frequently but not invariably.
2. SEEN is best because you may have BEEN all over it without noticing much. If you have SEEN it over it you will have been keeping your eyes open.
5. YEARN is a natural feeling. To LEARN involves technical study and man-made machines—not exactly natural.
14. POINTS is best. The clue implies that it is USUALLY easy to cut down. Certainly this is true of POINTS but not of COSTS.
18. FIRED is best. A man shouldn't be FIRED without hearing anything he may want to say. Under democratic law he CANNOT be FIRED without an opportunity to speak.
19. SHOW is best. If a man is interested in dogs, a fine CHOW is sure to have some appeal. No "might about it." A fine SHOW might, but as we aren't actually told that it's a "DOG show," we can't be sure.

Sinclair Says
Doukhobors B.C.
ResponsibilityOttawa Opposes
Invoking War Act

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fisheries Minister Sinclair said here Wednesday night the Doukhobor curfew requested by Premier Bennett would mean placing Canada on a war footing to combat 300 lawless members of the sect.

"The only thing that Mr. Bennett could come up with to cope with 300 Sons of Freedom Doukhobors who are terrorizing the decent majority of Doukhobors and communities in the Kootenays," he told a Liberal election meeting, "was a request to Ottawa to invoke the drastic War Measures Act."

The fisheries minister added: "Mr. Bennett and Mr. Bonner (Attorney-General Bonner) asked that measure simply because they are unable to cope with the Doukhobor problem and want to dump the responsibility into Ottawa's lap. Enforcement of the law is a provincial responsibility and Mr. Bennett must face up to it."

Douk Issue Enlivens Saanich Meeting

An appeal to all political parties not to make an election issue of the present Doukhobor disturbances was made by Arthur Ash, Liberal candidate for Saanich, at a lively meeting Wednesday.

Mr. Ash's appeal was made at the Strawberry Vale Community Hall where all candidates seeking election in Saanich on June 9 spoke to some 150 constituents. Speakers included Mr. Ash, Frank Snowsell, CCF candidate, Mrs. Norah Lindsay, Conservative candidate, J. D. Tisdalle, Social Credit candidate, and W. A. Scott, who spoke on behalf of Mr. Tisdalle.

The controversial Doukhobor issue was brought to the floor of the meeting by a member of the audience who accused all past governments of having failed to enforce the "law" in Doukhobor settlements. "Why should a group of people openly flout the law," he said, "If I did the same and set fire to my house, I would be sent to penitentiary."

CONCERN OF ALL

Mr. Ash replied that the Doukhobor problem was a difficult one and concerned every British Columbian. "Unfortunately few people understand the problem," he said. "Not all Doukhobors are troublemakers. The problem can only be solved with the help of the Doukhobors themselves."

QUESTION BARRAGE

The meeting resembled an old-time political rally when candidates were subjected to a steady barrage of questions and criticisms. CCF candidate Snowsell charged that the recent one-cent increase in the price of bread was due to monopolistic controls. The price of bread, was fixed by monopolies and everyone had to fall in line, he said. "I don't believe it," shouted a member of the audience. "I know a baker who has not yet increased the price of his bread."

Mr. Snowsell countered that he also knew a baker who is still selling bread at the old price. "But he told me he will be able to do this only as long as his old baking supplies last out," he said. "When these run out he will be forced to raise his price in line with the others."

Mr. Snowsell said the farmer will never get a fair price for his goods as long as he did not organize co-operatives to compete with the monopolies.

Mr. Scott was subjected to a barrage of questions with regard to the policies of the Social Credit party.

Amid shouts and boos, Mr.

Canadian Army Organizing for Two-Way Future

War, Peace—Simonds

OTTAWA (CP)—Korea's Panmunjom truce talks have the Canadian army looking in two directions at once, doing mental battle with a variety of possibilities.

Lt.-Gen. G. G. Simonds, chief of the general staff, recently returned from a visit to the front where he formed his own opinions. He told a reporter he would rather not speculate about the chances of a truce, but he does have his staff working out the answers for either peace or more fighting.

Because it takes months to train military formations, the army can't afford to take any chances on a stop in the fighting at this stage. It is starting to whip together a fourth brigade here in Canada to be ready for Korean service this fall.

CHANCE TO TRAIN

One of the by-products of Korea is that it has already given basic training to enough Canadians to man a full-fledged division if general war should come. The new brigade would be a start on another division.

But the peace that might come out of Panmunjom would almost inevitably bring up new problems. It could be an uneasy truce with both sides keeping close vigil. Or it could be something else. It might come in late fall and pose accommodation problems if the 4,000-man brigade has to be kept on the peninsula. Or it might come in summer.

WAR STILL UGLY

Meanwhile, Gen. Simonds says, the truce talks tend to obscure the fact that an ugly war is going on.

Total Canadian casualties in Korea now have passed the 1,400 mark and include 274 killed. It is a matter of record that the first brigade which went to the front in 1950 and 1951 suffered fewer casualties than the second which finished its tour this spring.

Canadian Siamese Twins Dead

INVERNESS, N.S. (CP)—The Siamese twins born here Tuesday died unexpectedly Wednesday due to a toxic condition inherited from their 19-year-old mother. They had lived about 33 hours.

In good condition during the day, the twin boys, first children of Mr. and Mrs. Max Wyrwas, started to slip suddenly shortly after 6 p.m. and died at 6.45.

Doctors were stunned because the twins were apparently gaining in strength. Dr. Frank MacLeod, chief surgeon of the Inverness County Hospital, said death was due to toxemia—a poisoning condition—from which the mother suffered before their birth.

Dr. MacLeod said following the death that "there was perfect formation of all organs". "There was one liver and each baby had only one kidney, larger than normal. They were joined by the rib cartilages."

The twins' hearts were encased in a single heart sac. Dr. MacLeod issued the statement after performing a pathological examination.

The larger of the twins started to slip first and the smaller, who had required artificial respiration at birth, was "carrying the load". Death, however, was almost simultaneous.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

This is the time of the campaign when the various political parties are staging Monster-Rallies to Get the Ball Rolling.

So far, no political party has asked me, but if one did, I would be pleased to arrange a Monster Rally to end all Monster Rallies.

Naturally, the featured speaker would be Frank N. Stein.

And speaking in his support would be Vera Vampire and William Werewolf.

Of course, at a Monster Rally, you would need music, which would be supplied by Gill Fittallme and his All-Ghoul orchestra.

The first political party which retains me to stage a Monster Rally is bound to have its leader elected Prime Minister of this province.

The circus strong man had never lost a contest with the local yokels, but one day he heard about a farmer who was said to be incredibly strong.

The circus man got on a horse and rode to the farm to issue a challenge.

He rode into the farm yard, tied up the horse, and shouted to the farmer: "Let's see how strong you are."

Without a word, the farmer seized the circus man and hurled him over the fence, out into the road.

When the intruder recovered his breath and staggered to his feet, the farmer growled: "Anything else on your mind?"

"Yes," the circus man said, politely, "I'd be much obliged if you'll be good enough to throw me my horse."

BCT to Alter Dialing On Insistent Demand

Discontinuance early next year of Victoria's typically descriptive telephone exchange names—Beacon, Empire, Garden, Albion, Belmont and Colquitz—is a concession to the ever-expanding tourist trade and one of the penalties of Greater Victoria's growth.

C. Whitmore Halford, B.C. Telephone Co. district commercial manager, explained today the change chiefly was necessitated by complaints from tourists and newcomers. Victoria's one-letter "first dial pull" confused them, and the resultant spate of incompleting calls and wrong numbers was not amusing. Greater Victoria residents were insistent on a change, he said.

As far back as 1950 Victoria Chamber of Commerce's tourist trade and other groups urged BCT to find a way to overcome this annoying condition. BCT officials and engineers concluded the only solution was to adopt numerical "first pull" designations. Mr. Halford said.

But such a major departure from present practice couldn't be undertaken on the spur of the moment, he explained. Actually the letter in a dial

Labor to Query All Island Candidates

Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council decided Wednesday night to send lists of questions to all Vancouver Island election candidates before May 31.

Candidates will be asked their opinions on the following subjects: a full-time Labor Relations Board, bargaining rights for civil servants, amending of the Workmen's Compensation Act, abolition of BCHIS co-insurance, reduction of hospital insurance premiums for married persons, 40-hour work week and two weeks' paid holidays, collection of holiday pay, and preservation of peaceful picketing.

John Quissey of the Victoria Building Trades Council said at the meeting that the council will seek closer supervision of apprentices in Greater Victoria.

He said that in future cases the council will gather facts concerning any displeasure over apprentice supervision, and will ask the inspector of apprentices to attend a meeting.

Volunteer Troops March to Search Stations

Among hundreds of volunteer searchers for David Anderson were nearly 100 men from military establishment here.

Here a group marches to the organized lines of searchers combing rough country in Metchocin.

LITTLE PAL NEAR TEARS ON SEARCH

Tot Walks Among Playmates' Haunts

The almost constant playmate of David Anderson is Ronald Steadman, exactly the same age as David, 3½.

He, too, joined in the search this morning.

Walking hand in hand with "Uncle Ed" Farey of CKDA, who spent all night at the search scene, he revisited their favorite haunts.

"We built a fort once," he told Uncle Ed.

"Where?" he was asked.

The youngster frowned, and concentrated, but all he could say was "Don't know where."

However, he did show Mr. Farey a half dozen favorite play-spots... a tree stump, a low, rocky knoll, a mossy hollow.

But there was no sign of his pal... and Gordon was close to tears when he and his fellow searcher returned to his home.

Missing Boy's Playmate

"I don't know where he went," said Ronnie Steadman, 3½-year-old pal of the missing little lad. (Times photos by Bill Halkett.)

HUNGRY HUNTERS

Tons of Food Rushed to Search Army

Tons of food, cash and equipment were donated to aid by hundreds of Victorians to Radio Station CKDA which assisted in the extensive search for three-and-a-half-year-old David Anderson of Metchocin, missing from his home since early Wednesday morning and found early this afternoon.

Since the radio station made an appeal Wednesday night for food for hundreds of volunteers taking part in the search, boxes of sandwiches, cakes, pies and coffee have been pouring into search headquarters in Metchocin.

Roy Thorsen, Times reporter, who is at the scene of the search, reported at 12.30 p.m. the food was arriving in trucks and was being served to hungry searchers, many of whom had been out all night.

Don and Ed's Restaurant was responsible for distribution of food.

As soon as the proprietors of the restaurant heard that food was needed Wednesday night, they took all they had on their premises and headed for the search area. They took over the kitchen in the residence of Jack Steadman, close to the home of the parents of the lost boy.

Don Wilson, radio commentator, reported that one woman walked into the station with 30 pies which she had baked herself.

Peacey's Drug Store, 202 Menzies, donated a carton of new flashlights.

The radio station was also responsible for organizing civilian teams to assist RCMP officers, sailors, soldiers and Island Rangers.

The station appealed for workers late Wednesday night when it became evident that the search would drag through the entire night. At least 40 persons turned up, and these were organized into four teams to comb the area near the boy's home.

More than 200 persons turned up in the morning when the station appealed again for more volunteers.

City Shipyards Held Capable of Savings

Union Official Says $3,000,000 Minesweeper Cost Can Be Slashed

Victoria shipyards, given government co-operation, could build minesweepers for $1,000,000 each instead of the present price of $3,000,000, a prominent trade unionist said here today.

"Implications in recent press reports and editorials are that shipbuilders are responsible for the increased cost of the sweepers," said J.-A. Cornthwaite, business agent for the Machinists, Fitters and Helpers' Union Local 3 (CCL).

"This is far from true as regards Victoria yards," he said. "The reason is the unnecessary and wanton delay by the Department of Defense Production."

He said the two Victoria shipyards, Yarrows Ltd. and Victoria Machinery Depot, have laid men off and contemplate further layoffs because of the government's failure to supply drawings and material.

COMPETENT MEN

"On one recent job it took four months to supply 11 valves, and there are 59 more to come; yet in Victoria we have draughtsmen who can design any type of ship required and firms that can make valves and castings at a fraction of the present cost in eastern factories with no shipping cost being added," Mr. Cornthwaite said.

"The reputation of western yards regarding costs and man-hours was established recently by high naval authorities," he added. "Of the 14 minesweeper contracts let in Canada in 1949 only three came to the west coast. These three are half the total launched in Canada to date."

He charged that Canada is wasting its shipbuilding potential by not utilizing its own resources.

Robinson Construction Co. of Nanaimo was given the industrial school contract and Kenett Construction Co. Ltd. of Vancouver the Esmondale job. Included in the contract was provision for completion of paving of the Victoria-Patricia Bay Highway.

This includes paving the eight-mile section at the Sidney end and the short section on Douglas, at the Victoria end.

The contract went to General Construction Co. and amounted to $143,480.

The Coronation of Queen Elizabeth June 2 will really mean something to prisoners. The provincial government has passed an order-in-council approving "Coronation year clemency" for inmates of jails serving sentences under provincial laws.

Case of Looted Safe Brings Man to Court

Vernon Reid, of no fixed address, was committed for trial on a perjury charge today, and remanded on a safe theft charge when he came before Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court.

The theft charge relates to the breaking and entering last January of the Salvation Army Citadel on Pandora Avenue. The Citadel's safe was taken.

Reid elected preliminary hearing when the theft charge was read against him. At the request of city prosecutor Alan Bigelow, he was remanded until May 28, at which time a date for hearing will be set.

Strachan Charges Socreds Using 'Big Lie' Technique

(By Times Staff Reporter) NANAIMO — Cowichan-Newcastle CCF candidate Robert Strachan, declaring the Socreds are using the technique of "the big lie," told a meeting here Wednesday night. BCHIS's financial position has become steadily worse under the Social Credit administration.

"They tell you BCHIS's financial condition is better than ever, but when you cut through the morass of half-truths, you find that's not so," said Mr. Strachan.

Here's how he summed it up: When the Socreds took office Aug. 1, 1952, the BCHIS cash balance was $4,352,641.

By February 15, 1953, the Socreds were claiming a cash balance of $8,586,601.

The joker in the pack, he said, was that $4,686,990 of the $8,586,601 figure was a subsidy passed by the previous government "but not transferred to BCHIS until after the Socreds took office."

"This means that BCHIS went behind $453,030 from August 1 when the Socreds took over to February 15, 1953," he said.

MARTIN'S FIGURES

The candidate said he based his statement on figures released by Health Minister Eric Martin during the last session.

Mr. Strachan also went after the government on public works expenditures.

He claimed the Socreds didn't spend $13,000,000 of the $36,000,000 public works budget appropriated by the former government for 1952-53 work.

"The Social Credit government didn't want to spend that

POLICE PROBE FOR CAUSE OF FIRE

C. Saanich Reeve's Home Burns

RCMP officers searched the charred remains of the $25,000 Central Saanich home of Reeve Sydney Pickles today for a clue which might lead to the cause of the fire which gutted the eight-room dwelling early this morning.

Police, assisted by a special investigator from the fire marshal's office in Vancouver, did not rule out the possibility of "arson."

The fire was first noticed at about 1.10 a.m., swept through the house situated on Mount Newton Crossroad, and within a half hour had completely razed the dwelling.

The house was empty at the time of the fire. Reeve Pickles was visiting a friend when the alarm was turned in by a neighbor, J. Godfrey, who noticed flames at the back of the house.

Destroyed in the fire were antiques, family heirlooms, valuable Chippendale furniture and Mr. Pickles' pilot's license, aero club license and air engineer's license and flying log books.

Central Saanich and Sidney fire departments arrived on the scene just as the roof of the dwelling caved in.

Fire fighters could do nothing to check the fire.

Reeve Pickles said he does not know what could have caused the fire.

"The stove hasn't been used for years," he said. "There is nothing I can think of which could have caused the blaze."

Mr. Pickles said he used his 30-year-old home to house his antique furniture and as his Central Saanich headquarters. The property includes a caretaker's cottage.

A large trailer, about 75 yards from gutted house, was saved.

Mr. Pickles' permanent residence is in Oak Bay.

Fire fighters are at loss to explain how the fire spread so quickly to all sides of the house.

The flames were first noticed at the back porch and within minutes enveloped the entire dwelling.

"The fire departments could not have done a better job," said the reeve. "There was nothing they could do to save the house."

The house and contents are only partly insured.

It's Time for You to Think Of Summertime Casual Togs

By PENNY SAVER

Summertime is T-shirt time! . . . And Victoria stores are so well-stocked with these "musts" for casual vacation-wear, you could almost dream up a design, then go downtown and pick it up! . . . I'm not suggesting that you turn designer before buying a T-shirt, but it would be advisable to have at least some idea of what you want before you shop. Otherwise you'll be completely overcome with the hundreds and hundreds piled high on counters in any sportswear department.

Here's a few suggestions . . . Terry cloth T-shirts are proving to be a hit this season, especially those with bright tropical designs on front. One I fancied had replicas of the many water sports intermingled with sprawling bamboo trees . . . very attractive! . . . Only $1.95.

Silk rayon knit T-shirts are cool and wash easily. A sail boat and several gliders made my favorite very striking . . . also $1.95.

Some folks prefer those with dazzling fluorescent stripes. This type of shirt can be obtained in a cotton basket weave, styled with collar, for $2.95.

Two ninety-five is also the price tag on cotton jersey or terry cloth shirts with tartan collar and pocket trim. . . . Most T-shirts are sold in small, medium and large sizes, so why don't you and your "steady" buy matching ones?

Thumb-operated, retractable "piercing prongs" on cake servers allow safe and easy service. Just push prong button forward to lock and hold slice in position . . . 35 cents.

I've discovered a flexible plastic bottle with a firmly-bristled brush fixed onto the lid. Marvellous for shampooing! . . . Fill the bottle with your favorite shampoo, and when hair is wet, you merely squeeze and the liquid will seep through holes in the brush. The stiff bristles make it easy to work into a lather. Price is $2.49.

Elasticized coasters that slip onto your tumblers are $2.49 for set of eight in bright colors.

Rocking Horse Needed to Quell Child's Fears

To assist a small child in care of Family and Children's Service to overcome almost hysterical fears of real horses, social service workers have advised the child be given a rocking horse.

This was reported to a recent meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to F and CS, who are making an appeal to the general public for such a rocking horse.

Anyone able to come to the aid of the service should phone Mrs. A. A. Blyth at E-0363, who is chairman of the auxiliary's buying committee for foster homes.

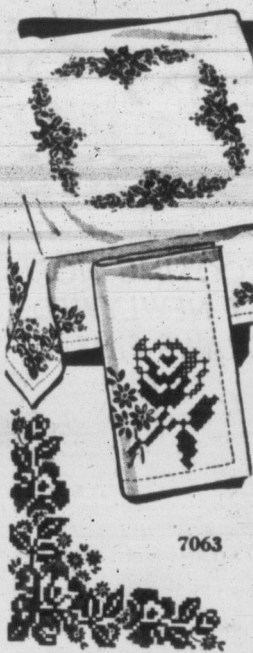

At the meeting members voted Mrs. Arthur Ash second vice-president, and Mrs. J. A. de Bourcier convener of a committee to work with social workers of the service in sitting with sick children in hospital.

Mrs. P. J. Sinnott reported receipt of two boxes of knitted articles for distribution to needy cases, from the "What So Ever Club" of Douglas Street Baptist Church.

Plans were discussed for a rummage sale to be held in the fall with Mrs. de Bourcier as convener. Mrs. E. R. Wilde in her treasurer's report showed receipts of $663.16.

To give the recently formed auxiliary a better idea of work of the board of directors of the F and CS, R. R. Wilde, vice-president and honorary treasurer, and R. McDonald, chairman of the foster home committee, spoke to the meeting, explaining the restricted financial budget and work with children in foster homes.

AS WE LIVE

Wife, Half Husband's Age, Should Adapt to His Life

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

When there is a wide age gap between husband and wife there is bound to be a wide divergence of interests. This wife wonders how to cope with the problem:

(Q)—"I am 39 years old and my husband is 67. Of course the difference in our ages makes it so that he does not want to go to dances, movies, night clubs or different entertainments that I enjoy. When I ask him to go, he says he would rather stay at home and watch television and he tells me to get someone else to take me. I have been going with a lot of different men about my age and my husband says it's all right but he pouts about it and I really don't think he does want me to go out with other men. Should I go out and have a good time or stay at home with this 'old crab'?"

(A)—Your choice of an epithet for your husband suggests that you and he have little in common and little affection. That of course is to be expected. He is old enough to be your father and you could not expect to find much congeniality in such a marriage.

Going out with other men not only looks bad and gives people opportunity to talk but it merely strengthens your husband's belief that you married him for his money rather than because you loved him. Naturally this will not make him happy and it is not surprising that he "pouts" when you prefer the companionship of other men.

If you want to have any real happiness in your marriage you will have to cultivate an interest in recreations that appeal to your husband. You will have to recognize the fact that he is physically incapable of keeping up the pace of a younger person.

Don't make his closing years of life unhappy by showing him so plainly that he bores you. You married him. Now be a good sport and take what goes with a "winter-summer" marriage. Elizabeth Hurlock is one of the nation's great psychologists, and she will gladly help you with personal problems.

Wright, Mrs. A. J. Butterfield, Mrs. R. T. Wallace, Mrs. E. E. Livesey, Mrs. R. G. McKee, Mrs. R. D. Harvey, Mrs. H. L. Campbell and Miss Kathleen Agnew.

Friends Fete Shirley Cove

A surprise miscellaneous shower was recently held at the home of Mrs. W. Johnson, 568 Paradise Street, to honor June bride-elect Miss Shirley Cove. The honor guest was presented with a corsage of pink rosebuds. Mrs. J. B. Cove and Mrs. W. Jackson, mother and grandmother of the bride-to-be, were also recipients of corsages.

Invited guests were Mrs. H. Beattie, Mrs. M. L. Gray, Mrs. W. Flynn, Mrs. F. Rainsford, Mrs. M. Cameron, Mrs. J. Framp-ton, Mrs. R. Hills, Mrs. G. Cessford, Mrs. N. Buxton, Mrs. R. Ash, Mrs. W. Poulson, Mrs. H. Sinnott, Mrs. F. Willis, Mrs. E. Brasseur and Misses Brahna Hooper and Betty Beattie.

Honoring Miss Audrey Rooney, who is being married next month, Mrs. F. Rowbotham entertained recently at a miscellaneous shower at her home on Lovatt Avenue. The honor guest was presented with a corsage of red rosebuds and a mother, Mrs. J. Rooney, and Mrs. T. Bagley, mother of the groom-elect, received pink carnations. Guests present were Mesdames J. Rooney, T. Bagley, M. Dighton, J. Hawkes, A. Wright, L. McLean, W. N. Grice, C. Sutton and Miss Barbara Hawkes.

Mrs. F. H. Staverman, Leigh Road, Langford, has left by plane for Edmonton, where she will visit her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Mattingsley. She will also spend a few days in Calgary as the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Simms. Mrs. Staverman will be away about a fortnight.

Miss Geraldine Cedar was recently honored at a cup and saucer shower at the home of Miss Joyce Cole, 2835 Colquitz Avenue. The honor guest was presented with a corsage of American Beauty roses and her mother, Mrs. B. Cedar, received pink carnations. Those invited were Mrs. J. Lynas, Mrs. M. McKay, Mrs. J. Gardiner, Mrs. G. Field, Mrs. P. Colpe, Mrs. B. Cedar and Misses Margaret Lynas, Frances Cedar, Marjorie McKay, Belle Bradley and Carolyn Cedar.

Misses Colleen Collison and Elma Hughes were co-hostesses at a shower at the home of the latter, 1130 Monterey Avenue, to honor Miss Ellen Prevost, May bride-elect. Sweetheart roses and lily-of-the-valley formed the corsage presented to the guest of honor. Her mother, Mrs. W. Prevost, and mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. H. Davenport, were given corsages of gardenias. Bride and bridesmaid dolls and pink-lighted candles decorated the refreshment table. Gifts were contained in a decorated blue swan from the 27 guests.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Just a Change of Pace May Provide Vacation.

Yesterday in this column I mentioned the importance to you of the kind of a vacation you choose, and called to your attention the fact that a change of pace is most refreshing.

There are three kinds of fatigue and they are closely related. There is actual physical fatigue and then there is emotional fatigue. In the latter group we find boredom which usually comes from a concretely set daily routine, without variation and new interests. We also find pressure, worry, rush and hurry, never catching up! Then there is real nervous exhaustion. This comes from the psychosomatic factors mentioned above. Surveys have shown that it isn't the work we do which kills and ages us, but the emotional factors which accompany it.

So many people who really need relief from pressure and hurry and financial stress, go on long motor trips where they have so many hundreds of miles to make every day. They return home more tired than before, and with more pressure because they spent money they could not afford. On the other hand, if your fatigue comes from boredom rather than pressure, a trip of this sort may be your dish.

For many women who have small children and no help, a maid for two weeks, and breakfast in bed, would be the best vacation imaginable. This might very well work out as a nice family vacation. Once the woman is relieved of the constant care of small children, her husband would rediscover in her the gay companion of more carefree years. They could take several "nights out" at more expensive places than they can afford as a pattern. For many married folks, the opportunity to relax, to sleep late in the morning and have a little care-free fun, would be wonderful, and cost less than a carefully planned trip would.

Think your vacation over carefully. Take one, but make it the one which will mean most to you!

In case you are going camping, you might like my leaflet "Tricks in Camping." If so, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 69 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

THE CORONATION STORY FROM LONDON

Decorations Go Up, Tempo Increases, Canadians Arrive, Many Will Attend the Buckingham Palace Garden Party

By RETA MYERS

LONDON — It is exciting going into town these days. Every trip provides a new view of Coronation arrangements. Regent Street has blossomed out in huge pink wild roses on fronts of all buildings, their yellow centres and silver stamens backed by lights. They are made of gun-cover material. On the Mall, huge crown-topped poles that will carry the fluttering standards are already in place and across many side streets "crush barriers" have been erected. These will keep the crowds from cramping back or forward.

Londoners are most critical of the decorations and think that the dignity of the city has been lost in Coronation trappings. But when everything is up, it will look very gay.

The most exciting event, of course, is the garden party at Buckingham Palace on May 28. Appearance here counts as presentation if you are on the "presentation list." Miss Marilyn Grant and Mrs. Ronald Shepherd of Victoria will be two B.C. residents accorded this honor. It will be "old home week" at the palace for Canadians if there is room enough to see any of the invited guests. The number of Canadian invitations issued is not available, but the list covers several pages. By special royal decree, head-hugging hats will replace the floppy cartwheels of previous garden parties and the Queen has set the example by having her designer make her a variety of small head-coverings. This form of head-covering will be an unwritten decree for Ascot and other Coronation events where space will be at premium. Invitations to the first royal garden party of the year included windscreen stickers with full instructions concerning special arrangements and information that the gates open at 3.15 p.m.

RECEIVE INVITATIONS

Among B.C. visitors who have received Her Majesty's command from the Lord Chamberlain are: Miss Jeannie Wilkinson Brighouse, Miss May Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Farrell, Miss Diana Fraser, Miss Rosemary Lumsden, Mrs. John Barker, Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Baker, Miss Winnifred Cookby, Mrs. Elsie Davis, Dr. and Mrs. Gerald Stibbs, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Stibbs, Dean Cecil and Miss Cecily Swanson, Mrs. M. M. Fennell, all of Vancouver; Miss Dorothy Taylor, New Westminster; Miss Luella Marshall and Miss Emily Smith, Salt Spring Island; Mrs. C. E. Ford, Victoria; Miss Pamela Ferguson, Duncan; Miss Joan Northcott, Vernon.

Hon. and Mrs. Clarence Wallace, Miss Ruth McLean, Aid. and Mrs. P. B. Scurrah of Victoria; His Worship and Mrs. Fred J. Hume, Vancouver. Mr. Hecburn has informed me that the B.C. lilies, sent over to mark Coronation, will be blooming shortly in Hyde Park and in the meantime, hundreds of gardens in London are sprouting with flowering plants through kindness of B.C. growers. Some 85 pounds of seeds, supplied by F. O. Blake, Langley, and George A. Robinson & Sons, Royal Oak, have been distributed in districts that suffered bomb damage.

Scores of Canadians are arriving daily and at B.C. House the usual greeting is "when did you arrive?" Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Welch of Qualicum are at the Dominion Hotel, Lancaster Gate; Mrs. J. A. and Miss Pat McGeer with Mrs. T. A. and Mr. David Spencer are on a motor trip of Great Britain. Prof. and Mrs. J. A. Gibson are at Kenya House, Oxford; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hamilton and Miss Joan Hamilton, Port Alberni, are at Northwood, Middlesex; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Rutherford, Victoria, are at Gore Hotel; Capt. and Mrs. J. A. Hobday are at Stafford Hotel, while Dean and Miss Cecily Swanson are at Palace Hotel, Kensington.

VICTORIANS THERE

Dean Swanson tells me they are leaving on a motor trip next week, but will return at the end of the month. He delivers the Coronation Sunday sermon at King's Lynn, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Farrell are back at Grosvenor House, and Aid. P. B. Scurrah of Victoria, will meet Mrs. Scurrah when she arrives TCA Sunday (May 17), and will leave the next day for the continent. They will be at Berrers Hotel on their return.

Col. Cecil Merritt, V.C., has arrived with the Canadian contingent and Mrs. Merritt will arrive May 22. It was surprising after seeing Col. Merritt at B.C. House, to find him the next day at Madame Tussauds, where he is included in the V.C. group of war heroes, the only Canadian, except Prime Minister St. Laurent, to be represented in these halls of fame.

Cathedral WA Makes $110 at Memorial Hall Tea

Sweet scented lilac and spring blossoms decorated rooms of Memorial Hall when the Evening Branch, Christ Church Cathedral Woman's Auxiliary, held its annual spring tea. A sum of $200 was raised for WA work.

Young children of Cathedral Nursery School, led by Mrs. H. Low, charmed guests during the afternoon with songs and a tuneful rhythm band. Tea was served from a lace-covered table centred with a bowl of coronation flowers, red carnations, blue iris and white lilac. Presiding were Mrs. Claude Harrison, Mrs. J. D. Hunter, Mrs. R. Willis and Miss P. Hockin.

Tea arrangements were in charge of Miss M. Nicholson assisted by Mesdames L. Godson, R. Roome, E. Calwell, J. Yeend, M. Freeson, and Misses M. Chow, M. Woodcock, E. Matthews, D. Lucas, D. Hawkins, D. Brown and D. Mott. Tea tickets were sold by Miss K. MacLure and floral decorations arranged by Mrs. D. Fallon.

Home-cooking stall was convened by Miss A. Chow, Mrs. E. Stewart and Mrs. W. Leal, while Mesdames D. Taylor, A. Welton, D. M. Reed, J. Trone and W. Shearing sold aprons. Mrs. C. W. Brooks was in charge of a stall of fancy stationery and cards and James Bay Juniors under Mrs. T. Fulthorpe had a miscellaneous stall. Guests were welcomed by the president, Miss M. Hockin.

Many Facets to Courage Speaker Tells Women's Club

Selflessness and faith are common links in the chain of courage, Air Marshal Sir Philip Livingston told members of Women's Canadian Club, Wednesday afternoon, in the Empress Hotel.

"If you have courage," he said, "nothing is impossible." Sir Philip, who recently returned from England to make his home at his birthplace near Duncan, attended Cambridge University, served with both the Royal Navy and Air Force during the First World War, and retired from that service as medical director general in 1951. He is a Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons, London and Edinburgh, and was honorary surgeon to the late King George VI.

Speaking simply, he presented a powerful and dramatic verbal essay on "Courage," using as illustration, first-person accounts of lives—and often deaths—of men whose reactions to tragic or dangerous circumstance had been consistent with the highest tradition of courage.

Fellow medical men, service personnel and one master British spy were among them. These were examples of individual courage in peace and war, Sir Philip, remarking that the spark being present in the

Bread Price May Increase as Flour Upped

Bakers across Canada soon will pay more for flour, and there may be a one-cent increase in the price of bread in Winnipeg and some other Canadian centres.

Likelihood of a similar increase here is scouted by some bakery officials. Others refuse to forecast because they haven't enough information yet. Price of an ordinary loaf here ranges up to 15 cents.

Domestic wheat price was raised by Canadian Wheat Board Monday afternoon. Millers now pay on basis of $2.05 per bushel No. 1 Manitoba Northern at lakehead or Vancouver. Previous price was $1.85.

New figure anticipates higher price levels in international wheat agreement scheduled for implementation Aug. 1. Purposes of domestic wheat price increase are to minimize stockpiling at the superseded price and to smooth transition to the new IWA price level.

Bakery officials in Winnipeg forecast last night price of bread in Manitoba capital would climb one cent, to 15 cents a loaf "within a few weeks" when current flour stocks are exhausted.

Hand-e-wrapsodies

A sorry lad is schoolboy Bill,
Who chews his lunch so glumly;
"With sandwiches as dry as sticks,
Who wouldn't?" he asks dumbly.

But Mary's mom, with wise foresight
In Hand-e-wrap preserves 'em.
Her sandwiches stay fresh and moist,
A school-miss sure deserves 'em!

Hand-e-wrap HEAVY WAXED PAPER

It's smart kitchen economy to wrap your meat, fish and vegetables in heavy, double-waxed Hand-e-wrap. No other product so completely preserves food flavor and prevents waste.

Handy Metal Cutting Edge...

United Church Confirms City Appointments

Three ministers who have been appointed to United Churches in Victoria in the last year have had their appointments confirmed in Vancouver.

Listed by the settlement committee of the B.C. Conference of the United Church of Canada were Rev. D. B. Carr, Victoria-Centennial; Rev. E. J. Staley, Wilkinson Road; Rev. Frank Johnson, assistant minister, First United Church. Altogether seven appointments were made in B.C. presbyteries.

Metropolitan United Church in Victoria was set as the site for the 30th annual conference next year.

Also named was a new pastor for the mission vessel, "Thomas Crosby," which travels to light-houses and missions up and down the west coast. He will be Rev. Roy Rogers who will come here from a similar post in Newfoundland.

Leaving the small vessel for a church in Montreal will be Rev. R. McCall. He served three years as captain of the ship.

Nonmagnetic minesweepers built entirely of wood are now important units in the United States navy. They are an essential part of the defense against magnetic mines.

Driver Fined When Pedestrian Injured

Driver of a car that struck and badly injured an elderly woman pedestrian on the night of January 7, Charles P. Moran, 3010 Earl Grey, was fined $50 and given a license suspension by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court Wednesday.

He was found guilty of careless driving. Mrs. Gertrude Wilson, 314 Catherine, her right leg still in a cast, was struck at Johnson Street Extension and Catherine Street, according to evidence.

"You simply were not paying proper attention while driving," Magistrate Hall said.

LACKS SEX KNOWLEDGE

Modern Prostitute Said Modest Girl

PARIS (Reuters)—The modern prostitute is a love-starved girl with an inferiority complex, anti-prostitution conference heard Wednesday.

She is a modest, even prudish, girl with little sex education, said Dutch psychologist Dr. M. A. Bouman in a report delivered to the international gathering.

"In spite of the weakness of her moral ideas, her morality may be described as 'fairly good,'" added Dr. Bouman, secretary of the Dutch National Committee for Sexual and Moral Hygiene.

He said that "numerous inquiries have shown a small amount of criminality among prostitutes," and that they "almost always speak the truth and deserve to be called frank rather than deceitful."

Dr. Bouman disputed what he called the conventional view that "a prostitute has no energy, is a lair, irritable, hysterical, perfidious, aggressive, rebellious, insolent, uncured, with no modesty."

He pleaded for "a deeper understanding of the prostitute's soul," depicting her as either a "doll, child or mother type," seeking to receive or bestow affection.

He added that "most prostitutes, while practicing the necessary art of seduction, certainly retain a sense of modesty and may even be subject to prudery and prefer to cover themselves with a veil of darkness and with clothes."

He added she felt herself solitary and hostile toward society, and considered her profession "a protest against the male sex."

A controversy over whether prostitutes are born or made broke out among the 100 delegates from 19 countries who are attending the international Abolitionist Federation congress, which is endorsed by Protestant, Jewish, Roman Catholic and Moslem leaders.

The French expert, Dr. P. Paulmelle, claimed "the majority of prostitutes must be classed among the unbalanced, the unstable, or the feeble-minded."

NOT "BORN"

Dr. M. Zolner, chief of the psychiatric department of Fresnes prison, denied that prostitutes are "born." He added that their number is often increased by "a great event such as war, invasion or economic crisis."

Discussing the social "restoration" of prostitutes—a term she preferred to "rehabilitation"—Mrs. Jules Droin de Morsier, president of the Swiss Josephine Butler Association of Geneva, said experience had shown that "a woman who has fallen on the street can raise herself and become a respectable woman, the wife and mother that all without exception have dreamed of being in their adolescence and early youth."

Other speakers at the conference, which opened Monday, have mentioned a "revolution in morals" and suggested an end to the "double standard."

"To combat prostitution in women, we must, in common fairness, hold the man really responsible," said French Dr. Sicard de Plazoles. The man should be arrested and sentenced just as the woman is he said.

Never Spied For America, Says Oatis

Eisenhower Credited With Winning Release

NEW YORK (AP)—Associated Press correspondent William Oatis says he never spied for the United States embassy while he was a newspaper man in Czechoslovakia.

He said in a statement Wednesday night that he checked news tips he received with the embassy on occasions, "but at no time did I act as an espionage agent of the embassy."

Oatis' statement followed by two days his return to New York after 25 months in an Iron Curtain prison on conviction of espionage.

At a press conference on his arrival here Monday, Oatis refused to say whether he served the U.S. government in any capacity while he was AP correspondent in Prague.

A reporter told him then that his noncommittal stand might prove embarrassing to him. Oatis conceded that, but insisted he would stand on the record of his Prague trial for the time being.

At the trial in 1951, he was convicted of espionage on charges of transmitting Czech economic, military and political data to a foreign government—presumably the U.S.

Oatis readily admitted he collected such data. But he said that was normal news procedure and would not be a crime in the U.S.

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower was credited today with playing a major role in winning William N. Oatis' release from a Communist prison in Czechoslovakia.

The White House revealed Wednesday night that Mr. Eisenhower on March 30 personally had urged Czech president Antonin Zapotocky to free the Associated Press correspondent "and thus remove one cause of friction between our two countries."

If this was done, the president said, the United States was "prepared to negotiate" regarding the sanctions it imposed on the Soviet satellite after Oatis was jailed in April, 1951.

Prince Rupert Jail Escapees Back in Cells

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. (CP)—Two men who escaped from the Prince Rupert jail last week end were returned to their cells Wednesday night following their capture at Cedarvale, 135 miles east of here.

John Robertson, 21, and William Stevens, 34, were picked up as they attempted to break into a store and sub-post office at Cedarvale.

RCMP broadcast a province-wide alarm Sunday after the pair slipped out of the jail through a coal chute from the furnace room. They made their way to the basement after breaking a hole through the ceiling of their cell.

Roadblocks were set up on all highways in northern B.C. and the police were dispatched from here when a stolen car apparently used in the getaway was recovered in Terrace.

Police traveled on foot and by railway, scouring the bush along the way as they proceeded. It is believed the escapees eluded capture by darting into the heavy brush on hearing the railway speeder each time it passed along the tracks.

At the time of their escape Robertson was being held here on a forgery charge and Stevens was awaiting trial on a charge of robbery with violence. They were to be charged with jail breaking today.

Four Bands to Play For Colwood Dancers

Four bands have entered a competition sponsored by the St. John's Guild at Colwood. The Colwood Community Hall will have all four groups of entertainers for one evening of dancing starting at 9 p.m., May 22. The dancers will choose the best band by popular vote during the evening and the winners will be awarded a shield.

The competing bands are the Foresters' Orchestra, the Langford Orchestra, the Belmont High School Band and the Colwood Airs.

 A (Good-Minor) B (For Risky Days)
 C (Too out of time)

(A) "THE STARS ARE SINGING" (Capitol): I've deliberately overrated this picture by placing it in the "don't miss" category.

Because I don't want you to miss seeing the darndest dog in captivity. As far as this corner is concerned the debut of Paramount's thrush, Rosemary (Come on a My House) Looney, the undoubted ability of child-singing star Anna Maria Alberghetti, the artistry of Lauritz Melchior, all play second fiddle to Bob Williams and his boneless canine pal Red Dust.

I first bumped into Bob and Red Dust about this time last year, while watching the Judy Garland show at Los Angeles' jammed Philharmonic auditorium. Although Judy looked after—and most capably—the last half of the show, the first half was an excellent vaudeville offering. And one of the top acts, the act that had even the most sophisticated looking around for aisles to roll in, was this sad-eyed hound and his effervescent master.

Like you, I've seen show dogs that dance on their hind legs, walk tight ropes, jump through flaming hoops, do back flips and all manner of wonderful things. But until that night at the Philharmonic I never saw a dog that was so limp unless he was dead.

Of course Red Dust in person is funnier than Red Dust in celluloid, but not by much. The scene where Bob coaxes the pooch to sit up and Red Dust is like so much hairy snot in his hands has to be seen to be believed. How Bob trained him to do all his weird stunts must be one of the best-kept secrets of dogdom.

Plot, in brief, of "The Stars Are Singing": Young Anna Maria, a refugee from Iron Curtain Poland, causes a hue and cry when she jumps ship and enters the U.S. illegally.

She finds a tipsy uncle, Melchior, and is befriended by three Broadway hopefuls, Rosemary C. Hoover Tom Morton and Williams and Red Dust. All help her elude immigration authorities, mainly on a selfish motive. Rosemary, especially, realizes that they have a television find in the talented young Polish singer. They manage to sell her as a package deal, that is, if the sponsor wants Anna Maria he has to take the others as well.

Rosemary Clooney faces the cameras with charm and ease in this her debut. But for my money she didn't have enough songs to sing. Either one Melchior, Hoover Morton shows to good advantage, and so does the youngster.

Nonetheless Bob Williams and Red Dust steal much of the limelight. Love that dog!

Soviet Long-Range Bombers Estimated to Number 1,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia now has between 900 and 1,000 planes in operating units of its long-range bombing force, according to a new estimate of Soviet war power.

These are described as TU-4 four-engine bombers, an improved version of the United States Air Force's B-29. They represent only those aircraft in organized, ready-to-operate squadrons.

The 900-to-1,000 figure does not include bombers in production or in reserve.

The TU-4's are considered capable of reaching virtually any large industrial city in the U.S. with atomic bombs.

The calculations of Soviet war-making capabilities place the number of Red interceptor planes in operationally-ready units at several thousand. Actually, these figures are fairly definite, but the exact number used in official estimates may not be disclosed.

In the past, there have been unofficial estimates that the total number of aircraft in the Red air force of all types and ages—might be about 40,000.

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson told a press conference last week the U.S. Air Force now has in excess of 20,000 planes, the navy and marine corps about 9,900.

Kitsilano Boys' Band Leaves on Tour Tonight

VANCOUVER (UP)—The 45 members of the Kitsilano Boys' Band were to leave tonight for their fifth tour of Britain.

Under the direction of Arthur Delamont the band is scheduled to arrive in Montreal, June 2, after giving concerts at Revelstoke, Banff, Calgary, Swift Current, Regina, Brandon, Winnipeg, Kenora, Marathon, Sudbury and Toronto.

TALK ON INDIANS

The welfare of native Indians will be discussed by L. Kirkpatrick, vice-president of the Coqualeetza Fellowship, in an address to the B.C. Indian Arts and Welfare Society, Thursday. The meeting will be held at the Arts Centre at 8.15 p.m. Mr. Kirkpatrick will describe the program of the fellowship which was established by alumni of the Coqualeetza Indian School.

Bank Robber Suspect Pleads Innocence

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 30-year-old bank robbery suspect told Magistrate Oscar Orr in police court Wednesday he had no idea his companion planned a bank robbery when he went for a "pleasure drive" with him April 7.

The accused, Victor Leslie Sparks, was arrested in a car 300 feet from a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada minutes after 26-year-old Patrick Bell was shot down as he attempted to escape with $6,400. Bell was paralyzed by the bullet and his trial has not proceeded.

Sparks, unrepresented by counsel, told the court that "the charges against me are false."

He said he lived with Bell for three weeks and on that day they went for a pleasure drive. Bell borrowed $2 from Sparks to buy gas.

When they got near the bank, Bell stopped the car, took out a paper bag and said he would be back "in a couple of minutes."

Sparks said he waited 15 minutes and then went and got a cup of coffee. He then went back to the car where he was arrested.

He also said he had turned off the ignition and that the car would not start when it was hot.

Sparks was remanded to Thursday. Magistrate Orr said his actions were not consistent with those of bank robbers and that "it seems to me that all there is against him is grave suspicion."

The Commonwealth of Australia was officially inaugurated on Jan. 1, 1901.

Complete Cure for Leprosy Is Almost Certain to Come

An unusual question comes from a reader who asks about the symptoms of leprosy, and whether the disease can be treated at home of whether the victim should be sent away.

First, with regard to symptoms, it should be said that this disease generally comes on slowly and the early signs vary remarkably. A thickening eruption on the skin and perhaps the formation of lumps or nodules are probably the most common early signs, though the diagnosis is not always easy at first.

With regard to the second question it must be recognized that leprosy is considered mildly contagious and someone with the disease should therefore be treated away from home.

Leprosy, or Hansen's disease, is rather rare in the United States. It does exist in many parts of the world, however, with Sweden, Norway, Iceland, parts of Russia, and certain provinces in Spain and Portugal providing a good many of the victims. In China it is said to have increased rapidly in recent years.

There are not many people on this continent who have this disease now. Leprosy was formerly a much worse scourge than it is today.

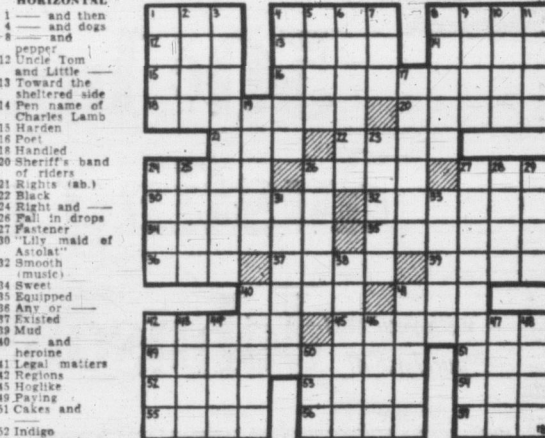

Historical novels of the middle ages frequently mentioned the pathetic victims of leprosy who were outcasts from society, dreaded and shunned by all. Many of these sufferers wandered over the face of the earth and were prohibited on penalty of death or torture even to speak to other human beings.

Fortunately, this disease cannot be easily acquired. It is spread slowly from person to person, and only by close contact. The control lies in early diagnosis and isolation as soon as possible. Isolation should be made as humane as possible. The cruel attitude of medieval days should cease.

GOOD PROGRESS MADE

Good progress in treatment is developing. Several chemical substances, some of them related to the sulfa drugs, have been used with encouraging results. Indeed the pictures of patients with leprosy who have been treated with such drugs clearly show that many of the terrible outward signs of the disease can be practically abolished.

New hope has therefore entered the somber outlook for the victims of leprosy. Sure and complete cure will almost certainly come and when it does, the recovered victims of this disease should be taken back into society without fear of the dread effects which have been given too much prominence by the hysterical attitude of our ancestors.

Civil Defense Group Renews Fireboat Drive

A fireboat for Victoria harbor is the renewed aim of the Greater Victoria civil defense board.

The group, which met Tuesday, will consider costs and find out if federal money can be secured for the project.

The meeting, attended by Victoria, Saanich, Esquimalt and View Royal representatives, had discussed the matter of a fireboat last year.

There was no opposition to the scheme, and Mr. George Austin of Saanich said later: "In the event of an attack or an emergency, waterfront warehouses and in particular food supplies, will need protection."

Chinese Newspaper Editor Quits Post

Kien Yeh Wu has resigned as editor-in-chief of the New Republic (Chinese Daily News)—only foreign-language newspaper printed daily in Victoria and the oldest Chinese paper in Canada.

Mr. Wu, well known here, said he had resigned in order to start a business of his own in Vancouver.

Born and educated in China, Mr. Wu was for many years a member of China's diplomatic corps, and served with embassies in several South American countries. He is an accomplished scholar and a talented artist.

The 45-year-old editor was appointed head of the New Republic eight years ago.

WHEN LOVE IS A LOT OF BULL

Lowcowis Pearl Supreme Loves Frances and Smoke

MADISON, Wis. (UP)—A love sick purebred bull, who took a yen to two young heifers and crashed through a fence to father a calf with each, was the principal figure today in a "paternity" suit here.

Raymond Uphoff, Cottage Grove, Wis., charged that Lowcowis Pearl Supreme's love affair with Frances and Smoke caused the heifers to lose their milk-producing capabilities.

Uphoff seeks $300 in small claims court.

Uphoff named Mary and Nancy Clark, owners of the bull, in the suit filed Wednesday and listed John Keller, who operated the farm for the Clark sisters at the time of the bovine triangle, as a co-defendant.

The Misses Clark contended that Keller didn't care for the bull "in a husband-like manner" under a state law which states the keeper is responsible for all damages done by a bull.

John Kennedy, Morrisville, Wis., from whom the sisters bought the bull, testified that Smoke and Frances "were not damaged in size or anything else except they were freshened out of season."

But Uphoff claimed that his heifers "were just too young" for the affair and couldn't give milk after the calves were born.

Small claims Judge Douglass Nelson took the case under advisement to determine the extent of liability.

He said there was no question that Lowcowis Pearl Supreme was the father of the calves.

Wrong Type Blood Responsible for Death, Jury Rules

OTTAWA (UP)—Cpl. John S. Hughes of Pembroke, Ont.,

died April 5 in an air force hospital here when a nursing sister's error led to a transfusion of the wrong type of blood, a coroner's jury ruled Wednesday.

Hughes died 12 days after undergoing a major stomach operation at the Rockcliffe Air Station Hospital. The coroner's jury verdict said the death was "kidney failure as a result of receiving the wrong type of blood" following the operation.

The verdict laid no specific responsibility for the death out included a recommendation that a system of cross-matching and double-checking of blood types be worked out.

France, U.K. To Meet U.S.

Big Three Talks May Be Followed By Russian Parley; Mayer Topples

WASHINGTON (CP) — Prime Minister Churchill, President Eisenhower and the successor to Premier Mayer of France will meet in Bermuda in June to discuss world problems, it was announced today.

In Paris, Mayer said the Big Three conference would discuss the feasibility of a later conference at which Russia would be represented.

The meeting will be held at the invitation of President Eisenhower. Churchill suggested Bermuda as the meeting place.

In London, Reuters reported the date would be June 17. However, the Washington White House announcement did not mention any specific date. It said merely that the meeting would be held the latter part of June.

Announcement of the agreement to hold the Bermuda meeting was made at about the same time in London, Washington and Paris.

Churchill told the House of Commons that arrangements are being made for the meeting to be held shortly after June 16 although the exact date had not yet been settled.

Churchill said he hoped the meeting would enable the Big Three to "take a definite step forward to a meeting of far greater import."

This was presumably a reference to a possible Big Four conference with Premier Malenkov of Russia attending.

(Meanwhile, in Paris, Premier Mayer, premier of the right-wing French government, was overthrown tonight by the National Assembly, leaving France temporarily without a government. Mayer's government lost a confidence vote on his controversial economy budget and tax program. A dramatic last-minute announcement of the planned Big Three meeting and a possible "far graver" meeting of the three western leaders with Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov failed to save off defeat.)

Search Spreads From Child's Metchosin Home

Close to 500 persons, from all walks of life, congregated today at Anderson home on Wishart Road to offer aid in searching for lost child. Cars were parked bumper-to-bumper far down road. In picture, contingent of Royal Roads cadets is shown in background arriving at scene.

DESPERATE HUNT

Mayor, MLA, Neighbors All Lend Aid

Frank Mitchell, Esquimalt MLA, was one of the all-night searchers in the desperate hunt for three-and-a-half-year-old David Anderson.

"I arrived home after a political meeting," he said, "and my wife simply handed me some old clothes and told me to get going."

At 11 a.m. Mr. Mitchell was still going.

Mayor Claude Harrison arrived at the search scene shortly after 10 a.m.

He was dressed in a business suit on arrival—but soon had changed into rubber boots, blue jeans and wind-breaker, and joined the other searchers.

While men hunted through the woods, their women folk kept the home fires burning.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Steadman, next-door neighbors, opened their home to the searchers and kept coffee boiling all night long.

She was assisted through the night by Mrs. B. Patzack, Mrs. P. Anderson and Mrs. M. Arthur.

This morning they were joined in a working crew of seven other neighborhood wives.

Full control of the search was turned over by RCMP to the South Vancouver Island Rangers, in charge of Arthur Hall.

Many of the searchers are veterans of many "man-hunts" in similar country.

The Legion of Frontiersmen joined the search. The group serves the CD organization as auxiliary police, is composed of city business men.

Mr. Webster saved his most forceful criticism for the Socreds' hospital insurance proposal which wipes out all premium arrears.

He was especially angered at the Socreds for making the changes without approval of the Legislature. Only the Legislature, he said, can change the basic principles of an act. The cabinet had no right to do it.

"To any supporter of British tradition of government it is a tradition that the government has done by administrative act what it knew it could not do in the Legislature."

Mr. Webster teed off on the Socreds' new hospital insurance plan, which is effective July 1, in a meeting in the Odd Fellows' Hall attended by more than 200 persons. Local CCFers were cheered because the crowd equalled the one drawn by Premier Bennett the night before.

Volunteers Hunt Through Day and Night

Tired, hungry and worn after combing bush all night long, these four searchers took only a brief rest this morning before setting out again. Left to right: Arthur Gillan, Gorge Road; Frank Mitchell, Esquimalt CCF candidate in June 9 provincial election; Thomas Flewin and Ray Heald, both of Victoria Road.

LIBERALS WILL WIN—CAMPNEY

VANCOUVER (BUP) — Ralph Campney, Solicitor-General, told a Liberal rally here Wednesday night that the Social Credit party would disappear from the west coast political scene after the June 9 B.C. election.

"You'll never hear of the Social Crediters in B.C. again after they lose this election," he predicted. "He told the audience that the 'Liberals have rebounded from their setback (in the 1952 election) with amazing speed and vigor, and I believe we are going to be pleasantly surprised on June 9."

The Legion of Frontiersmen joined the search. The group serves the CD organization as auxiliary police, is composed of city business men.

3½-Year-Old Tot Found Asleep Near Only Clue

By MONTE ROBERTS and ROY THORSEN

Just a few minutes before 1 p.m. today, 3½-year-old David Anderson of Metchosin was found alive, sleeping under a tree, after the greatest 24-hour bush hunt the southern Island has ever organized.

The clue which led to his discovery was a tiny running shoe at 9.50 this morning by Dennis Ridley, one of the search party.

There were no other details at press time on the finding of the boy.

Close to 500 volunteer searchers, led by the emergency search team of the South Vancouver Island Rangers, plodded slowly across a two-square-mile area surrounding the little boy's off Wishart Road, near Turner's Shingle Mill.

The search concentrated at noon in the vicinity of the point the shoe was found, but the dog's search, aided by their dogs, at 7 p.m., and kept at it steadily until 2 a.m.

They were joined by about 20 volunteers from the neighborhood early in the evening. Shortly after midnight, CKDA broadcast an appeal for more volunteers and the response was quick and generous.

Through the darkness of the night, hampered by the intermittent rain, and the heavily wooded, uneven terrain, the clinging underbrush, probing hollows and bushes with long poles.

Disappearance of the boy was first reported to the RCMP about noon Wednesday, who dispatched constables and the bloodhound to the scene.

Late in the afternoon RCMP called on the emergency search service of the South Vancouver Island rangers, who sent 25 men in charge of Arthur Hall.

The search reached its height in terms of manpower early this morning, but all through the night volunteers, answering an appeal from radio station CKDA, toiled through the wet, clinging underbrush, probing hollows and bushes with long poles.

Sarnia Tornado Damage Tremendous

SARNIA, Ont. (CP)—A tornado hit the downtown section of Sarnia at 5:42 p.m. (EDT) today. Damage in the downtown area was described as tremendous.

Ten Dead in South U.S. Floods

NEW ORLEANS (UP)—Flood waters smashed through a dike at Lake Charles, La., today and flowed through the homes of 600 servicemen as Louisiana and Texas fought a battle against one of the worst floods in their history.

Ten persons were dead in Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi and Tennessee. Damage soared toward the $200,000,000 mark and the Red Cross estimated that 23,000 were driven from their homes.

The great flood was building up into one of the big natural disasters of recent years in parts of Louisiana and Texas.

Miner Acquitted of Hold-Up Share

VANCOUVER (CP)—Victor Leslie Sparkes, 30-year-old unemployed miner, charged with the Royal Bank of Canada First and Renfrew holdup on April 7, walked from police court today a free man.

Magistrate Oscar Orr, in summing up evidence of the preliminary hearing, acquitted Sparkes with this statement: "I believe you were in cahoots with the man Bell, but there is still not enough evidence to commit you."

Just a few minutes before 1 p.m. today, 3½-year-old David Anderson of Metchosin was found alive, sleeping under a tree, after the greatest 24-hour bush hunt the southern Island has ever organized.

The clue which led to his discovery was a tiny running shoe found at 9:50 this morning by Dennis Ridley, one of the search party.

The little boy was found by Gnr. Charles Shiro, 119 AA Bty, Work Point.

He was found in a "shoulder-to-shoulder" sweep by the 500 searchers that was started at noon after other weary hours of scouring the country had failed to locate the boy.

Although apparently in good shape, the little fellow was given a drink of milk and was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital by RCMP from Colwood for a checkover.

The mass sweep through the hinterland surrounding the boy's home was an "all-man" venture. Three dogs sent to trace the boy failed to find a sign of him.

With Gnr. Shiro when David was found, only about one mile north of his home, were BSM Ken Buxton, Gordon Head Camp, and Orval Coulter, RCN.

His mother burst into tears when she heard the good news, flashed to her via walkie-talkie.

Immediately sirens were sounded to indicate to others spread over close to one-half mile of country that the search was over.

Close to 500 volunteer searchers, led by the emergency search team of the South Vancouver Island Rangers, plodded slowly across a two-square-mile area surrounding the little boy's off Wishart Road, near Turner's Shingle Mill.

The search concentrated at noon in the vicinity of the running shoe, which was found approximately one mile north of the boy's home. The boy was found one hour later.

The RCMP bloodhound Rip, and the Island Ranger's hunting dogs Sir Roderick and Joe, picked up a faint scent at the point the shoe was found, but it petered out.

The search reached its height in terms of manpower early this morning, but all through the night volunteers, answering an appeal from radio station CKDA, toiled through the wet, clinging underbrush, probing hollows and bushes with long poles.

Disappearance of the boy was first reported to the RCMP about noon Wednesday, who dispatched constables and the bloodhound to the scene.

Late in the afternoon RCMP called on the emergency search service of the South Vancouver Island Rangers, who sent 25 men in charge of Arthur Hall.

"I think it is really swell, the way people have come forward," Mr. Anderson, 25, said. "I can see that people really have a heart when it comes to a lost child."

Said Mrs. Anderson: "It is all pretty wonderful. I have never seen so many nice people in all my life."

Volunteers Find Child After 24-Hour Search

Dramatic moment of rescue for young David Anderson came at 1 p.m. today, when army volunteer searchers, headed by Lieut. Frank Bussieres, found the 3½-year-old asleep under tree. Searchers are members of "Able" Troop, 119th AA Battery, RCA., stationed at Work Point. Boy was found after a shoulder-to-shoulder hunt through bushland, over 24 hours after he was last seen near his Wishart Street home. Top right in photo is Gnr. Charles Shiro, who found the boy. Lieut. Bussieres is at left. Photo was taken by Bdr. William Cherniwan, member of the search party. (Other pictures, story on Page 24.)

Big Three Meet Called in June

Bermuda Talks May Be Followed
By Russian Parley; Mayer Topples

WASHINGTON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill, President Eisenhower and the successor to Premier Mayer of France will meet in Bermuda in June to discuss world problems, it was announced today.

In Paris, Mayer said the Big Three conference would discuss the feasibility of a later conference at which Russia would be represented.

The meeting will be held at the invitation of President Eisenhower, Churchill suggested Bermuda as the meeting place.

In London, Reuters reported the date would be June 17. However, the Washington White House announcement did not mention any specific date. It said merely that the meeting would be held the latter part of June.

Announcement of the agreement to hold the Bermuda meeting was made at about the same time in London, Washington and Paris.

LIBERALS WILL WIN—CAMPNEY

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Ralph Campney, Solicitor-General, told a Liberal rally here Wednesday night that the Social Credit party would disappear from the west coast political scene after the June 9 B.C. election.

"You'll never hear of the Social Crediters in B.C. again after they lose this election," he predicted. He told the audience that the "Liberals have rebounded from their setback (in the 1952 election) with amazing speed and vigor, and I believe we are going to be pleasantly surprised on June 9."

Folks'll hev a lot o' sympathy fer that youngster ther wuz lost in th' woods. Less fer politicians in th' same fix.

Victoria would o' got a great name as a convention city if th' boat strike had kept them thousands o' Shriners from gittin' here.

Figgered Wack really was confident—till he started gittin' shrill.

Envoy Nominated

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Eisenhower today nominated R. Douglas Stuart of Lake Forest, Ill., vice-president of the Quaker Oats Co., to be ambassador to Canada.

Stuart, 66, is treasurer of the Republican National Committee. He would succeed Stanley Woodward, who resigned.

Egypt Evacuation

CAIRO (UP)—A Syrian strongman Adib Shishakly has denounced Britain as "the arch-enemy of the Arab world" and called for urgent action to consolidate Arab collective security, it was reported today.

Churchill told the House of Commons that arrangements are being made for the meeting to be held shortly after June 16 although the exact date had not yet been settled.

Churchill said he hoped the meeting would enable the Big Three to "take a definite step forward to a meeting of far graver import."

This was presumably a reference to a possible Big Four conference with Premier Malenkov of Russia attending.

(Meanwhile, in Paris, Premier Mayer, premier of the right-wing French government, was overthrown tonight by the National Assembly, leaving France temporarily without a government. Mayer's government lost a confidence vote on his controversial economy budget and tax program. A dramatic last-minute announcement of the planned Big Three meeting and a possible "far graver" meeting of the three western leaders with Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov failed to stave off defeat.)

Socreds Break BCHIS Laws, Says Webster

By GORDON FORBES, Times Political Reporter
NANAIMO—CCF Leader Arnold Webster Wednesday night accused B.C.'s Social Credit government of "showing contempt for the rule of law" in making recent changes in hospital insurance.

In a two-hour address, frequently interrupted by applause, the Socialist leader accused the Socreds of:

1. Breaking the law by changing the "true intent" of the Hospital Insurance Act without consulting the Legislature;

2. Ignoring the law by not enforcing compulsory premium payment and thereby forcing

Last-Minute Talks Achieve Agreement

MONTREAL (BUP)—The AFL Seafarers' International Union late today called off a strike scheduled to go into effect against coastal shipping companies in British Columbia Saturday midnight.

Representatives of the union and two of the three companies involved met here in a last-ditch effort to stall off the strike, that would have crippled most coast-wise shipping. They reported that they reached a "common goal on the terms of settlement."

They did not describe the terms under which the settlement was reached.

Engine room crews of Canadian National, Canadian Pacific and Union Steamships Ltd. and the stewards' department of Union Steamships agreed to stay on the job.

About 700 seamen were directly involved. The union had threatened to strike for a $50 monthly pay boost for the seamen and had turned down a $30 monthly boost offered in the majority report of a conciliation board.

STATEMENT ISSUED

Immediately upon receiving the news in Vancouver, a joint statement was issued by the CNR, CPR, Union Steamships and the SIU. The statement said:

"At a meeting between the above parties today, in Montreal, arranged by the minister of labor, common ground was created on terms of settlement of the dispute which threatened disruption of the coastal steamship services on the British Columbia coast as of this coming Saturday."

"It was stated that the strike deadline had been withdrawn and that a mutually satisfactory agreement had been reached subject to ratification by members of the union."

Informed by the Times word had been received from Montreal stating that the strike was off, Charles Burpee, district passenger agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway here, commented: "This is news to me—but it is certainly good news."
